Venango, Warren, Westmoreland, Fayette and Crawford Counties Now Counted for the Philadelphian.

Chairman Reeder Promises to Act Fairly.

WATRES PEOPLE WILL CORDIALLY JOIN HANDS WITH QUAYITES ON CONVENTION ORGANIZATION

By ROBERT SIMPSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 9.—There is jubilation at the Quay headquarters, and it is confidently asserted that the senator has complete command of the situation.

Congressman Sibley arrived here tonight and announced that he would accept the permanent chairmanship of the convention. This is understood to carry with it the Venango and Warren county delegations, and Gen. Miller will not interfere.

Elkin has been counting on these votes. He had been counting on the delegates from Westmoreland county, but the word went around tonight that the congressional situation had proven a makeweight that carried the delegation over to Quay. John Byrne is here, but refuses to admit it.

It was current on the street that Fayette's delegates would vote for Pennypacker. In quiet corners at Quay's headquarters this was admitted, but no one in the inner councils would give specific information on that or on anything else. Crawford county, which instructed for Flood for lieutenant governor, will be for Pennypacker for governor.

Elkin headquarters were discouraged by this sort of news, but encouraged by a telegram from Recorder Murphy and Samuel C. Grier of Allegheny city. This was about all the encouragement received there tonight, and the crowd, which had been large during the day, thinned out. At Quay headquarters the throng increased during the day until at night it overflowed the building.

The Elkinites at Sea.

The Elkin people have no candidate for either temporary or permanent chairman. This was stated by T. Larry Eyre and others at the headquarters, although it was insisted they had not determined not to caucus on organization. They are at sea on organization, however, and this fact discloses a weakness fatal to their causes.

The captains of thousands are here, and many captains of hundreds, but not many delegates have arrived. Nearly all will be here before tomorrow night, when caucuses will be held on organization.

The Pennypacker and Watres delegates will poin forces on the organization of the convention. The leaders of the two forces are in harmonious agreement on all points except the nomination for governor, and they are not quarreling about that.

Mr. Watres was a visitor at Senator Quey's headquarters this afternoon and had a talk with Senators Quay and Penrose. He had many callers at his own apartments during the day. Former state Senator Andrews and and former Speaker Farr helped him receive visitors. Wesley Andrews was at the Quay-Penrose headquarters.

The friends of Mr. Watres hope to have the balance of power in the convention. Pennypacker people claim, however, to have sufficient votes to nominate their candidate, and that without the help of Allegheny county.

Elkinites Concealing Their Cards.

The Elkin managers claim a sure thing in public, but in private admit that Allegheny county's delegates are very necessary to their success. The managers are not showing their cards. They say they don't want their rivals to know what is in their hands. But for this they would be glad to take the public into their confidence.

The Watres managers say they have in sight as many delegates among those uninstructed as are instructed for Watres. They are talking Watres and harmony. They express the opinion that the nomination of either Pennypacker or Elkin will continue and deepen factional divisions, but that the nomination of Watres will end factional strife and unite the party. They do not concede that either Pennypacker or Elkin has enough votes in sight to make a nomination, and hope that after a ballot is taken and the situation is disclosed, Watres will be the beneficiary because of the irreconcilable differences between the Pennypacker and Elkin forces.

The circumstance that Pennypacker and Watres managers have agreed on an organization slate, discloses a working arrangement up to the ballot for governor.

No Watres Votes for Elkin.

So far as public utterances go, it proceeds no further; but it makes clear that Elkin has nothing to hope from the leaders of the opposition, though claims continue to be made that there will be transfers to Elkin or votes that are now counted for Watres. Penrose is the Pennypacker choice for temporary chairman and Sibley for permanent chairman, as has already been published, and Watres has agreed to them.

At Elkin headquarters it was said today that a caucus of Elkin delegates on organization would be called for tomorrow night, but no selection had then been made for either temporary or permanent chairman, and tonight it is said they may hold no caucus, preferring not to show their hand until the convention meets. Elkin men at the same time show weakness by saying that too much must not be made of the number of answers to roll call at the Pennypacker-Watres caucus, as it is easy to personate a delegates by answering to a name in an informal caucus.

Weible May Surrender His Forfeit.

The Elkin people are reported to be well supplied with money, but there has been no move to cover the offer of ex-Sheriff Buser, to bet any sum, from $5,000 to $100,000, that Elkin will not be nominated. It is generally supposed that J. A. Weible, who today posted a forfeit of $50 on a $2,000 bet with J. Clayton Erb, will let the forfeit slide. He has the Elkin end of it. There is a story that $6,000 of Elkin money is around somewhere to back a declaration that Pennypacker will not be nominated. The only effect of the report is to make the friends of Watres feel better. They point out that no one has offered to wager money that Watres will not be nominated.

The Elkin people announce that they will support the nominee in case Elkin is beaten. Gen. Frank Reeder made unequivocal declaration to this effect today to representatives of The Gazette in the presence of J. Hampton Moore, who is in charge of the Pennypacker headquarters, as distinguished from the Quay-Penrose headquarters. Gen. Reeder declared that before he entered the contest for Elkin the attorney general agreed with him that together they would go on the stump for six weeks for the nominee of the party.

Gen. Reeder called on Senator Quay this afternoon to make convention arrangements and to give assurance that there would be no favoritism shown by him as state chairman in either admissions or seating. The interview was friendly, if not cordial, and tinged with regret on both sides that they are apart after 30 years. Gen. Reeder made it plain that he hoped they will be together after the convention and be shoulder to shoulder for the ticket.

The Mercer county delegates who today indorsed the candidacy for lieutenant governor of former Senator Brown of Lawrence county are counted in the Pennypacker column. They called on Senator Quay this afternoon. The Elkin status of the Northumberland county delegation is in much doubt and they may land in the Pennypacker column.

Even Tioga county, the home of the governor, where he made it a personal matter, is reporting some uncertainty. One of the four delegates elected had announced himself as a Pennypacker man in publishing his candidacy. There was no mistaking his attitude, and, though the county gave a small majority for Elkin, it is stoutly maintained that the man who ran as a Pennypacker candidate for delegate and was elected cannot be claimed for anyone else.

FRANK REEDER PROMISES FAIR PLAY FOR ALL

He Denounces as a Lie Story That He Will Abuse His Power.

FRANKLIN COUNTY WILL GO WITH QUAY

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 9.—When asked what he cared to say in reference to the statements that he would permit his friendship for Elkin to interfere with an equitable division of convention tickets, Gen. Frank Reeder, Republican state chairman, said to The Gazette correspondent, without appearance of either passion or heat:

"The man who made that statement is an infernal liar. I called upon Senator Quay today and assured him that I would be perfectly fair in the division of tickets, and that he would receive all that he was entitled to. I told Mr. Elkin the same thing, and have just left Mr. Watres, whom I visited for that purpose.

"It is ridiculous," continued Chairman Reeder, "for anyone to presume that I would use my official position to favor any candidate. As an individual I am committed to Mr. Elkin; chairman of the state committee I have no candidate and will accord the same courtesy to all candidates. All I desire to add, either officially or as an individual, is that when the nominations have been made we shall all turn in and give the candidates selected a rousing majority. Win or lose, Elkin and myself will go on the stump for a six weeks' tour."

Chairman Reeder opened state committee headquarters this morning at the Lochiel hotel. Assistant Chairman T. L. Eyre and Secretaries Andrews and Garvin were on hand.

A. Nevin Pomeroy, editor of the Franklin Repository, and one of the three delegates from Franklin county, expressed himself thus to The Gazette: "With the understanding that Senator Quay wanted Mr. Elkin nominated, our delegates at the convention, held early in March, were so instructed. No effort has been made to have these instructions recalled, but it would have been an easy matter had Col. Quay approved of such a suggestion when it was made. Franklin county Republicans are for Quay, the delegates are his personal friends, and would be very glad to vote as he desires were it not for their instructions.

"In support of what I say, you may say the Franklin delegation will go into the Pennypacker caucus tomorrow night and vote for Senator Penrose for temporary chairman of the convention and for all other officers suggested by Quay. We will also support the senator for chairman of the Republican state committee and his policy in every regard, except in respect to Elkin, for whom we were instructed under a misapprehension."

Some Pennypacker Predictions.

These expressions of opinion were given out tonight:

Senator Quay—There is no reason to change my original estimate as to the result. Judge Pennypacker will be elected on the first ballot.

Senator Penrose—Numerous interviews with leading Republicans and delegates from all parts of the state confirm the prediction of Judge Pennypacker's nomination on the first ballot. The opposition has put up a good fight, but it will not be able to secure the required 180 delegates.

Israel W. Durham—I stand by my original statement, predicting Judge Pennypacker's nomination. Since that his cause has grown. He will have the votes and will be nominated. It will be over on the first ballot.

W. H. Andrews—Enough delegates are pledged to make Judge Pennypacker's nomination sure. That settles it.

Chairman Moore—Today's inquiries confirm previous statements of Judge Pennypacker's nomination on the first ballot. Assurances have been more than satisfactory.

William L. Mathues—Montgomery county will stand by Judge Pennypacker. It was the first to indorse him.

John R. Brown—Lawrence county will vote solidly for the judge.

Wesley R. Andrews—Judge Pennypacker will have strong support in the entire northwest. He will certainly be nominated.

Ex-State Chairman B. Frank Gilkeson—The sentiment in Bucks county is for Judge Pennypacker. The outlook in Harrisburg is that he will be nominated on the first ballot.

County Commissioners Wildermore and Black—The Philadelphia delegation is solidly for Judge Pennypacker. We have no doubt of his nomination.

Ex-Congressman Yardley—It is all Judge Pennypacker's way.

C. Wesley Thomas—It is Pennypacker on the first ballot.

Col. J. Granville Leach—Several Democrats and Union party men recently remonstrated with one of their followers because he had declared for Judge Pennypacker, saying: "We don't want Pennypacker nominated. Let us nominate Elkin and then we can prevent his election. We have used our influence in Tioga county for Elkin with this purpose in view." My inquiries in Harrisburg indicate that Judge Pennypacker will unquestionably obtain the nomination.

BIG GAPS TORN IN THE RANKS OF GOV. STONE

Sibley and Miller Will Agree, and Venango and Warren Safe.

THE CHAIRMANSHIP HAS BEEN SETTLED

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 9.—There will be no quarrel between Maj. Gen. Charles Miller and Congressman Joseph C. Sibley over the disposition of the Venango county delegates to the state convention. Sibley is here, and Gen. Miller will arrive in the morning. There is every assurance that Miller will not stand in the way of Sibley. As a result, Venango's three delegates and a like number from Warren will be cast for Pennypacker.

The Mercer situation also has cleared and a solid delegation will fall in for the Philadelphia judge. The same can be promised for Crawford. The four votes from there have been wrested from the grasp of Dr. T. L. Flood, who intended to turn them over to Elkin. They may vote for W. R. Andrews.

Mr. Sibley will be the permanent chairman of the convention. He will become a member of the body on a substitution given him by one of the Venango delegates. His speech is prepared, and Sibley is in excellent condition to deliver it.

Battling for Delegates.

Sibley has assisted Quay all night in conducting a rapid-fire campaign against the Stone machine. The batteries of the Pennypacker forces have never ceased firing. Great gaps have been torn in the Stone lines. The battleground has been the west and northwest. Enough good

VOTE OF THE DELEGATION WILL BE SPLIT

Pennypacker Will Get Six Votes from This County.

VON BONNHORST SLIPPED AWAY

UNIT RULE TO BE TRIED IN CAUCUS

The Allegheny county delegation to the Republican state convention is divided, and both the leading candidates for governor will get a share of its votes. Recorders Brown and John T. Murphy will make every effort to keep their pledge to Gov. Stone and deliver the delegation to Elkin tonight. On the other hand, County Recorder von Bonnhorst has engaged to deliver the six delegates from the Sixth legislative district to Senator Quay's candidate. Two of these are said by machine men to be doubtful.

As a result of this struggle the vote of the delegation will probably stand, Elkin 30, Pennypacker 6. Recorder von Bonnhorst and his six delegates disappeared late yesterday afternoon, and it was learned that four of them had gone to Harrisburg with him on the Philadelphia express. The other two left on the train bearing practically all the other Allegheny county contingent. The delegation occupied three special Pullman cars, reserved for them on the fast line, and left the city at 9 o'clock last night. All asserted that they would vote to best further the interests of the organization.

Delegates Were Watched.

The coming struggle at Harrisburg was in some measure reflected here yesterday, and the district leaders watched over their slated delegates with an almost parental interest. Word came from Harrisburg early in the day to hold back the credentials until the delegation was safely started on its journey, gathered under the vigilant eyes of the two city recorders and their lieutenants.

County Recorder von Bonnhorst, who was held responsible for his district, is supposed to have given his men their credentials.

The delegates from this county will caucus at 11 o'clock this morning and the machine will make a desperate attempt to hold the wavering delegates in line by the passage of a resolution that the county's vote be cast as a unit for Attorney General Elkin. This will be opposed by von Bonnhorst and his delegates, and if pushed through they are not likely to pay any attention to it.

Threats of dire vengeance on the county recorder were heard from the machine delegation last night, and it was practically admitted that the six men were pledged to Judge Pennypacker. Every pressure is being brought to bear on von Bonnhorst and his men to prevent them from keeping this promise, and the other delegates professed to be confident that not more than two would be able to bear up against it, and asserted that they had hopes of holding the delegation intact.

Brown's Prophecy.

Recorder Brown said just before getting on the train: "I think we will have a solid delegation." With his usual mystery the recorder refused to say to whom the 36 votes would go, but some of his adherents were not so taciturn.

James W. Platt and Henry Hall left at 2:50 this morning. Dr. James A. Kirk, one of the Sixth district men, was accompanied by Dr. J. P. Kerr of the Fifth district, who left with the machine delegation. Dr. Kirk will be subject to some unusually strong pressure on the way to Harrisburg and may change his mind and vote for Elkin. L. L. Davis, the other man left behind, accompanied Recorder Murphy and the Allegheny men, who occupied one of the special cars, but it is thought he will stick to Pennypacker.

The two recorders, Brown and Murphy, held another conference yesterday and perfected arrangements for holding the delegates in line. The prevalence of the Quay influence at Harrisburg is feared.

It was tacitly acknowledged last night that unless Elkin was elected on the first ballot the delegates and leaders would get in out of the wet, and the vote would be still further split, in an effort to do something to save the machine from utter elimination from state politics.

Anxious Over Ticket.

The leaders are anxious over their county, legislative and congressional candidates, and will spare no effort to save themselves after they have once fulfilled their pledge by aiding Elkin on the first ballot.

Allegheny county may hold the balance of power in the convention as far as Elkin is concerned. He cannot be nominated without its delegates, but it is probable that he will be defeated with them.

Taking into consideration the fact that the county will be the second in alphabetical order to cast its vote, it is easily seen that the machine leaders are in a particularly delicate position. A misstep in the first ballot will deprive them of any opportunity of bargaining for the delegates.

Almost the entire machine contingent in city politics left with the delegation last night. Another change was made in the delegation. Franklin P. Booth was detained at home because of death in the family and County Chairman A. C. Robertson was placed on the delegate slate and elected in his stead.

Recorders Brown and Murphy, Director McCandless, Coroner Mcgeary, Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel, Assistant Superintendent of Police William Wilson and a host of city and county officials headed the delegation and County Detective Robert G. Robinson, with Supt.

SENATOR QUAY DECLARES TO ALL VICTORY IS SURE

WILD ELKIN SEARCH FOR LOST DELEGATE

Staff Correspondent.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 9.—Senator Quay had a very busy day. The conferences of last night lasted until late this morning and the senator had little time for rest. But the colonel is a great campaigner. He can sleep in the saddle, and this morning was as fresh, buoyant and full of confidence as when he arrived to take charge of the battle.

All day long his headquarters was thronged with visitors. There was not as much noise as at the Elkin headquarters, where the air was full of claims—claims—nothing but claims. Col. Quay's visitors were men who control results—county leaders, delegates and those who elect delegates. Little was said. All who expressed an opinion declared that the fight was over.

The senator handled his callers with great rapidity. He kept the line moving, and yet everyone had time to make a report and be informed as to the situation.

"We have the fight won and cannot lose," was Quay's laconic message to all.

A humorous incident of the day was the disappearance of John F. Garnhardt, an Elkin delegate from Luzerne. The town was turned upside down in an effort to find the anthracite representative, but he could not be found. The Elkin people thought that Quay must have kidnaped him, and a posse was sent to the Walnut street house, where Quay and Penrose are. Senator Penrose informed the Elkin scouts that their man was not there. Still they were not satisfied.

"Well, the man is not under my bed, of that I am sure," said Penrose; "but Quay may have him concealed. You can look under his bed and search his person, if you desire."

Later the absentee turned up at Elkin headquarters with a story that he had been out to spend the evening with friends.

Congressmen Sibley and Foerderer arrived from Washington at 7 o'clock. They joined Senators Quay and Penrose at dinner, others present being Commissioner Durham, ex-Senator W. H. Andrews, J. Clayton Erb, Durham's secretary, and Mr. Gray, secretary to Mr. Sibley. Senator Edmiston of Center, a former insurgent; J. W. Dunkle, ex-chairman of Warren; Ralph Stone, son of ex-Congressman C. W. Stone; B. F. Gilkeson of Bucks and W. B. Gill of Philadelphia were among others who saw the senators. The Mercer delegation in a body also called.

Dr. T. L. Flood did not arrive as expected. His son, Col. Ned Arden Flood, said his father would be here in the morning.

It is said two of the Northumberland delegates have decided to support Judge Pennypacker. All four were claimed by Elkin.

The main parlor of the Commonwealth hotel has been reserved for the Allegheny delegation. It was opened to visitors today by R. H. Lindsay and Jerry Heasley, both of whom professed ignorance as to how the Allegheny people would line up on the governorship.

QUAY GUNS MAKING HAVOC IN THE RANKS OF J. P. ELKIN

Demmel, may be used to guard the delegates and prevent a break not authorized by the leaders.

Indiana county's delegation postponed its departure until this morning, when a special train will bear 350 Elkin rooters to the scene of action.

Signs of coming trouble cropped out yesterday in the Sixth legislative district convention. After the body had finished its business and elected state delegates presumably favorable to Judge Pennypacker, a resolution was passed providing for the appointment of a campaign committee of 15, to take care of the fight of County Recorder Von Bonnhorst for re-election. This indicated a presentment that the machine might endeavor to throw the Sixth leader down for his flirtations with Quay and selection of Pennypacker delegates. When the county recorder discovered his followers' action he is said to have been very angry, as he regarded it as a mistake of policy.

STATESMEN LEAVE FOR STATE CAPITAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Representative Sibley, who is to be permanent chairman of the Republican convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday, left for Harrisburg this afternoon, accompanied by Representatives Bates, Lewis and Foerderer. Representatives Mahon, Burg, Wanger, Palmer, Evans and the other members of the delegation will leave tonight, with the possible exception of Mr. Grew, who may not attend the convention, and the three Democratic members.

Among the representatives opinion on the result is divided, the majority believing that Judge Pennypacker will win on the first ballot. Those of that belief are willing to bet even money that Mr. Elkin will not be the nominee, but cannot find any takers. On the other hand, the Elkinites offer to bet that Judge Pennypacker will not be the nominee, and in this city they cannot find any takers.

The Star (Independent) tonight, in an editorial on the situation in Pennsylvania, concludes as follows: "The men who are fighting for a new deal command the sympathies of the outside world. Conditions in Pennsylvania are well known and have long called for correction. The mismanagement of the public funds, the manipulation of public franchises, the offenses against the ballot, the general tone of ring rule, all combined, have given to the state a most unsavory reputation. At times and in places even Tammany has been outstripped. The present is not the first attempt on the part of the Republicans to turn over a new leaf. It seems, however, the most promising they have made. It is strong in the support of all who assisted in the former attempts, and has besides the endorsement of some influential new recruits.

"The candidate for governor urged by the reform element is a distinguished Philadelphia jurist, and his locality, not less than his ability and character, may be cited to show the serious nature of the case, for the services of a Philadelphia lawyer have passed into proverb. Where or they are necessary the work in hand is not only concededly difficult, but quite beyond ordinary people. Judge Pennypacker deserves to win."

Col. W. E. Andrews Republican club of this city will leave tomorrow morning for Harrisburg with 150 men in line and a band of 40 pieces. The club will shoot hard work for the nomination of Judge Pennypacker.

EX SHERIFF'S WAGER REFUSED BY ELKINITES

Offered Any Amount From $5,000 to $100,000—One Man Proposes to Bet Delegates.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 9.—A wager of from $5,000 to $50,000 was offered today by H. Wells Buser, ex-sheriff of Dauphin county, that Elkin would not be nominated. The offer was made in the corridor of the Lochiel hotel, the Elkin headquarters, and was not accepted.

J. A. Weible of the state department said, in a quiet voice: "I wouldn't mind taking a couple of thousand of that."

"Nothing less than $5,000," said Mr. Buser.

Clayton Erb of Philadelphia remarked to Weible:

"I'll take that $2,000."

"When do you want the money?" asked Weible.

"Now," declared Erb.

"I'll put up a forfeit of $50," said Weible.

"When will you put up the rest of the money?" asked Erb.

"When do you want it?"

"Now; I'm after money."

Weible hesitated.

"I want money," declared Erb. Put it up now or in two hours."

Weible still hesitated.

"Well, then," said Erb, "I'll give you until 11 o'clock tomorrow."

The $50 forfeit was then put up by Weible and Erb and Mr. Buser again came to the front. He repeated his original proposition and then declared:

"I'll bet any amount up to $100,000—nothing less than $5,000. I'll put $500 forfeit now and you can have the rest of the money in two hours."

Mr. Buser continued to announce his offer in a loud voice for 10 minutes, but there were no takers.

Ex-Senator Mitchell, one of the Elkin managers, offered to wager delegates instead of money that Elkin would have more votes on the first ballot than Pennypacker, and could find no takers. His proposition was that three delegates from Jefferson county and three delegates from Philadelphia should not vote when their names were called, but before the result was announced the candidate having the highest vote should receive the votes of these six delegates.

VERY FEW CONTESTS FOR DELEGATE SEATS

Names of Those Who Will Nominate Rival Candidates Given—Vandals at Work on Banners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., June 9.—There is a contest between the Elkin and Watres adherents in the First Luzerene district. There is also a contest in the Twenty-ninth ward of Philadelphia, although the Elkinites concede that the sitting delegates will not be disturbed. There may also be a contest from one of two of the Schuylkill districts.

Hampton L. Carson of Philadelphia will present Pennypacker's name before the convention, Robert H. Murphy of Johnstown, Representatives Frank B. McClain of Lancaster and W. S. Van Dyke of Greensburg will name Elkin. A. J. Coburn of Scranton will nominate Col. Watres.

Both the Pennypacker and Elkin adherents will have demonstrations tomorrow night after their caucuses. Fifteen clubs will come from Philadelphia to take part in the Pennypacker demonstration. Several hundred miners from the anthracite region will parade with the Elkin shouters. Elkin clubs will also be here from Lancaster, Altoona, Shamokin, Indiana, Punxsutawney and other localities in which the delegates have been instructed for the attorney general.

The Pennypacker and Elkin managers flooded the city with photographs and banners of the rival candidates after midnight Sunday. This morning the Pennypacker campaign committee found several of their banners in Capital park had been slit with a knife so that the wind would blow them away, and that streamers which had been tied to trees had been cut during the night. Elkin's managers declared they had nothing to do with the vandalism and assisted in replacing the Pennsypacker banners.

EX-LIEUT. GOV. LOUIS A. WATRES.

work was done tonight to settle the contest beyond doubt.

Until Sibley reached town tonight there was doubt as to Venango and Warren. No one underestimated the power of Gen. Miller in Venango, and neither was there a disposition to discount this influence over the line in Warren. The Venango banner was perched on the outer walls of the Elkin fortress and the Warren colors had not found the camp over which they were fully determined to float. In two hours these conditions were changed.

Sibley came from Washington with Congressmen Foerderer, Mahon, Patterson, Bates, Palmer and Lewis. They were all driven to the Quay house, where dinner was eaten with the senator. Long before the meal was ended men from the northwest were waiting in the outer room for a conference with Sibley. Among the number was Col. Samuel Dick of Meadville. He was happy and said the cause of his good humor was that Miller and Sibley would be together.

Miller Will Keep Hands Off.

The colonel said a telegram had been received from the general in which he had given assurances that he would not stand in the way of Sibley. This was taken to mean that Gen. Miller would not try to prevent the Venango delegates from following the leadership of the congressman and would keep hands off in Warren.

J. W. Dunkle, who has just retired as county chairman, and who has much influence in Warren, was waiting to see Sibley. He had a telegram in his pocket requesting him not to commit himself until he had talked with Sibley. He had two from Miller asking him to remain neutral until he arrived. Dunkle has a high regard for both men. He was in a peculiar position, but felt relieved after a long talk with the congressman. He was followed by Senator H. H. Cummings and some others.

Sibley never poses as a boss. When asked to say whether he would have the delegates from Warren and Venango for Pennypacker, he replied in this modest style:

"I do not claim to control anything. I have not talked with the delegates from Venango. Gen. Miller has more influence there than I have. Neither have I discussed the situation with the Warren delegates. I can also say that I have not had a talk with my very dear friend, the general. He will be here in the morning and I expect to meet him. We will not quarrel, and I will not attempt to do anything which would cause him the slightest displeasure."

Elkin Can Afford to Wait.

"It is true that before I can be permanent chairman of the convention I will have to secure the proxy of one of the Venango delegates. So far, I have not made the slightest attempt to procure a substitution, but suppose that it will be possible to procure the credentials. If I cannot I will be satisfied.

"John Elkin is a young man. I think he should stop aside. There will be an opportunity for him in the future, and there is no chance for him this time. I am confident that Pennypacker will be nominated. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind tonight that he has this fight won. I would, of course, like to see Venango go with the organization, but that is a matter for the delegates. I am hopeful that we will all be in accord tomorrow."

The three delegates from Warren are Frank Knapp, Charles Clark and Mr. Morris. They have a trust company in Warren, of which Mr. Knapp is president. Mr. Morris is a director and Mr. Dunkle attorney. In Harrisburg they have a state treasurer, controlled by Stone, who has placed $25,000 of the state's funds on deposit in this bank. While this will not have any influence over the delegates, the Stone machine men are counting upon it helping to make Elkin sentiment. The people of Warren do not take such a commercial view of politics as they do on Copitol hill under the Stone regime.

Situation in Flood's County.

The situation in Crawford county is interesting. There are four delegates there, Samuel Maxwell, W. S. Harper, Watkin Powell and Frank Kelly. Last January the county committee passed a resolution allowing Dr. T. L. Flood, who is a candidate for lieutenant-governor, to name the delegates, with the understanding that they were to support him for second place, but he was not to dictate the delegation's action on the governorship.

Within the last ten days, the Quay men say, Flood has been attempting to control the delegation for Elkin. This has angered the friends of the senator. About 30 of them reached here today and this afternoon held a meeting, at which Thomas Rodely presided. Resolutions were adopted in which it was agreed to stand by Flood so long as he does not attempt to deal with Elkin. There is also an indorsement of the candidacy of W. R. Andrews for governor, and a paragraph pointing out the fact that the nomination of Elkin would cause the defeat of the whole Republican ticket in Crawford this fall.

About 50 Crawford county men will come in with the delegation in the morning. It is the intention to have another meeting tomorrow afternoon at which the delegates will be present. The resolution adopted today will be presented and the four men will be urged to pledge themselves against Elkin.

Maxwell has given his proxy to Charles Benedict of Titusville, who has quite recently been outspoken for Elkin. It is said, however, that he will agree to vote against the Stone candidate. If he does not make the pledge today Maxwell will come here and vote himself. Powell and Harper are considered as sure anti-Elkin delegates. Flood has a pledge from Kelly to follow his instructions. This was secured some time ago, and it was said tonight Kelly would insist upon being relieved.

Col. Dick says Flood cannot be nominated. He declared tonight that Flood could carry neither his ward, city nor county.

The Elkin men are claiming a portion of the Erie delegation." There is no ground for their claim. There was every assurance at Pennypacker headquarters tonight that the six votes would be cast for the Philadelphian and for L. B. Brown for secretary of internal affairs.

Coming over on the train tonight from Washington the congressmen who were with Sibley started a boom for him for governor. Sibley accepted the honor, but insisted that he was for Pennypacker and that the judge would win.

Sibley's friends deny the story that Gen. Miller's declaration for Elkin was made after a well-tried plan by Sibley. Accordingly to this tale the congressman figured that Pennypacker could not be nominated, and when a new man was needed he would step in. So to have a footing in the Elkin ranks Miller was assigned to make his declaration.

Nothing in the Story.

The pipe-smoker had it mapped out that Sibley was to force himself upon the convention by making a speech when assuming the duties of permanent chairman that would sway the body. Sibley's friends laugh at the story and say Pennypacker is too certain of success to make such a scheme worth thinking about.

Gov. W. A. Stone is credited with having sent an order to Pittsburgh this morning that no credentials are to be given to any of the 36 delegates until they have promised and given bond to vote for the postscript candidate.

Stone is desperate. If he can get Allegheny he will be able to make a respectable showing in the convention. James Mitchell said this morning: "We have to get Allegheny." Stone is holding Flinn, Brown and Burleigh, to their contract and has the meat ax hanging over Recorder John R. Murphy of Allegheny. If he can land the 36 from Allegheny it will be of great assistance in converting the numerous other delegates Stone will have to have before he is sure of owning a gubernatorial nominee.

Stone is reported to have said yesterday that he would have the Allegheny county delegates or the scalps of Brown and Murphy. The rumors that Elkin was to lose the delegation so angered him that he is credited with having said that he would appoint negroes recorders of Pittsburgh and Allegheny rather than allow Murphy and Brown to remain in office if they failed to obey his orders.

The Elkin managers are claiming that a conference of the Allegheny delegates was held this morning in Pittsburgh at which 32 of the delegates pledged themselves to vote for the attorney general and that they are reasonably certain of the other four.

Charles S. Crawford of Pittsburgh was here today to file the Citizens party nomination papers of John Dalzell for congress. They are now on record at the state department. Crawford thinks Stone will get the Allegheny delegation.

Thomas Sample of Allegheny, superintendent of public printing under Stone, returned from home this morning. He reported to Stone that at least 34 of the 36 delegates would support Elkin. In his opinion there is doubt about two votes, but he declines to specify.

PENNYPACKER AND WATRES MEN UNITED

Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 9.—Col. L. A. Watres made this decisive statement to The Gazette correspondent:

"The delegates instructed to support me for governor, and those who were not instructed, but who have pledged me their votes—a total of over 30—will join tomorrow night with the Pennypacker delegates in the caucus called to arrange for the temporary organization of the convention. Senator Penrose has been agreed upon for temporary chairman. My delegates and those of Judge Pennypacker will vote for him. We will control the temporary organization."

"Will you support Pennypacker for the nomination?" was asked.

"That is a bridge we will not cross until we reach it. I am a candidate myself. My platform is party harmony, which is essential to party success in November. While my list of delegates is not so large as that of the other candidates, it is growing, and I am quite confident that my chances have not lessened since my arrival in Harrisburg. It would be inconsistent for me, or those who are supporting me, to enter the Elkin caucus. My candidacy is based upon reform in state affairs and is in violent antagonism to the system and machine which Mr. Elkin represents. For these reasons it follows that my delegates must act in harmony with those of Judge Pennypacker, at least so far as the organization of the convention is involved. The other responsibilities will be met and disposed of when the proper time arrives."

STONE'S PRAISE OMITTED FROM THE PLATFORM

Yet the Butler Resolutions Indorse Quay, Penrose and Showalter.

WESTMORELAND SURPRISE

Dr. Thomas, Only Remaining Anti-Quayite in the Race, Beaten for Assembly—A Walkover for Acheson's Friends in Washington.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Butler, Pa., June 9.—The Republican county convention this afternoon was harmonious. The resolutions indorse the national administration, Senators Quay and Penrose, Congressman Showalter, and pledge support to the ticket nominated. No mention was made of the state administration and no effort was made to instruct the delegates to the state convention.

While the three delegates elected have not openly committed themselves, it is said they will support Elkin.

The official count on some of the offices is as follows: For judge—James M. Galbreath, 3,092; John M. Greer, 3,450. For congress—J. B. Showalter, 4,509; J. D. McJunkin, 2,641; George E. Huff, 42. Assembly—A. M. Douthett, 4,695; Thomas Hasy, 3,892; J. B. Mates, 3,254; Nelson H. Thompson, 2,072. Sheriff—M. L. Gibson, 3,086; A. McCune Campbell, 2,137; James R. Kearns, 2,072. Prothonotary—J. C. Clarke, 3,447; J. M. Crulkshank, 1,311; R. J. Thompson, 2,445. Treasurer—Thomas Alexander, 1,990; C. H. Book, 2,228; W. S. Dixon, 2,370; J. W. Powell, 745; J. G. Welsh, 391. Register and recorder—J. H. Davis, 2,890; H. W. Koonce, 597; James Rankin, 1,179; Porter Wilson, 2,685; Lewis Wolford, 490. County commissioners—John F. Brown, 787; G. W. Crowe, 620; Noah Henry, 2,040; John W. Hillard, 1,976; J. Kuhn, 1,623; Robert McClung, 2,709; Eli Moore, 1,805; James L. Patterson, 2,497. Auditor—Howard Hazlett, 4,163; H. W. Heberling, 3,340; George S. Houselton, 4,365. Coroner—Dr. J. C. Atwell.

Walkover for Acheson's Friends.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—Republicans of Washington county today, in an unusually harmonious convention, nominated their ticket, passed several resolutions and adjourned with scarcely a contest. The following ticket was nominated: Assembly, John M. Berry, D. M. Campsey and D. M. Anderson; treasurer, W. H. Ulery; prothonotary, John I. Carson; register, W. C. Robison, clerk of courts, Charles E. Baker; commissioners, J. E. McClay and Smith F. Scott; coroner, W. H. Sipe; poor director, W. A. Gabby; auditors, R. P. Stevenson and W. A. Kennedy.

The five delegates to the state convention were not instructed, but are pledged to oppose Elkin, and the indications are that they will be for Judge Pennypacker. The delegates are H. F. Ward, Charles Reizer, M. G. Brownlee, A. E. McCabe and James Robison.

The only contests on county offices were for coroner and county commissioner, and the Acheson candidates won by large majorities. E. F. Acheson received the unanimous vote for congress, while for state senator Brown defeated Mahon by almost 100 votes. Acheson's nomination in the district is assured by a majority of almost 4,000 votes.

At the convention resolutions were adopted commending the primary system of nominating, and the action of the Washington county conferes in securing such a system in the Twenty-fourth congressional district, also commending the efforts of Congressman Acheson in securing rural mail delivery for Washington county and other sections of the congressional district and calling for a further extension of the system in Washington county.

Last Anti-Quayite Beaten.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—The surprise of the legislative contest in Westmoreland county was the discovery this evening that Dr. L. C. Thomas, member of the last house and the only one of the old anti-Quay faction in the race, was defeated. He gives place to W. F. Morrison of Mt. Pleasant. The successful candidates are George H. Stevens, Joseph B. Heister, Mr. Morrison and Charles Whitten.

The Republican county convention will meet here tomorrow at noon. There will be no contest for chairman of the Republican committee in this county. All factions have agreed upon E. B. McCormick for the place. Mr. McCormick was quartermaster of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment during the campaign in the Philippines.

EBENSBURG, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention this afternoon was organized by the Elkin people by the election of John W. Kephart of Ebensburg as chairman, over S. W. Davis, by a vote of 135 to 88. The delegates elected to the state convention were J. C. Stineman, L. E. Sloan, Jessie E. Dale, J. Swan Taylor and William Davis, all Elkin men, and instructed for Elkin. Congressman Alvin Evans of Ebensburg was indorsed for congress, with power to select his conferees. Thomas Davis of Ebensburg and Ed. H. Hohmann of Johnstown were nominated for assembly, James M. Shumaker of Johnstown being defeated by Hohmann by two votes.

Jacob Yeckley of Gallitzin was nominated for county treasurer, over Emery West of Johnstown. J. T. Lloyd of Ebensburg withdrew. For commissioner, W. S. Stutzman of Upper Yoder township and Benjamin Jones of Cambria township were nominated; for county auditors, John Gittings and L. W. Kauffman; poor director, James Somerville.

Results in Bedford and Clarion.

BEDFORD, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—Complete returns were received today from the county Republican primaries. For the legislature Oster won over Smith by a vote. Oster is a friend of Elkin. This ticket was nominated: State senator, W. C. Miller; representatives, Joseph T. Alsip and George W. Oster; sheriff, Henry W. Coban; prothonotary, E. H. Blackburn; register and recorder, Aaron Gates; treasurer, John S. Guyer; district attorney, Simon H. Sell; commissioners, Samuel Baker and Robert C. Smith; poor director, Martin L. Sams. F. B. Horne and William Lauder were unanimously

ERIE, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—The Democratic county convention today instructed the delegates to the state convention for Robert E. Pattison. WERNER PEOPLE LOSE STEEL COMBINE CASE

New Suit Entered Against Corporation in New Jersey and Temporary Injunction Granted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court today denied the application made by the C. H. Werner Company and others to restrain the United States Steel Corporation from issuing $250,000,000 in bonds and retiring at the same time $200,000,000 of preferred stock.

Vice Chancellor Emery, sitting in Newark, N. J., today granted a rule to show cause why the proposed plan of the United States Steel Corporation to convert $200,000,000 of its preferred stock into bonds of the same amount should not be enjoined. The rule is returnable tomorrow. It carries with it a temporary restraint against the consummation of the plan, pending disposition of the matter.

Application for the order was made by Robert H. McCarter, as counsel for Mrs. Merriam Berger, who lives in Sullivan county, N. Y., and other holders of preferred stock of the corporation to the extent of 1,200 shares. The bill alleged that the proposed conversion of the preferred stock into bonds is unconstitutional as impairing the vested rights of the stockholders.

The Danger Period for the Nervous and Broken Down in Health is Rapidly Drawing Nigh.

Paine's Celery Compound

Banishes All Symptoms of Disease and Nourishes the Nervous System.

Paine's Celery Compound has saved thousands of people from nervous prostration and collapse brought on through sleeplessness, weakened nerves, and impoverished blood. The great medicine has made thousands well. It has conquered weakness and ill health when everything else has failed.

This is the time when nervous debility and nervous prostration begin to manifest themselves. The coming hot weather will only add fuel to the fire of suffering and disease.

If there is mental depression, loss of energy, lack of vivacity, dullness of the eyes, blanched cheeks and lips, confusion in the head, defective memory, love of solitude—all these are direct indications of coming nervous collapse, and call for the immediate use of that nerve feeder, strength giver, and blood enricher, Paine's Celery Compound. This heaven-sent prescription is a peerless remedy for your dangerous troubles. President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of the United States, writes from Pittsburgh, Pa., as follows:

"In 1899 I was compelled to abandon my profession because of nervous prostration consequent upon exposure, hard study and overwork. A number of physicians declared I would never recover, but I tried Paine's Celery Compound, and in less than a year increased in weight from 141½ to 215 pounds. During the recent strike of the steel workers, finding myself ready to collapse, and fearing a recurrence of my former trouble I returned to my former friend, Paine's Celery Compound, and already am feeling more vigorous and able to meet and discharge the duties of my office."

The Republican conventions held yesterday to name the candidates for congress, legislature and county offices were not lively. In almost every case there was decided lack of interest, the apathy being so great that the attendance of delegates was affected. In the Twenty-ninth district congressional convention, for instance, but 22 delegates were counted, out of a total of 166. The Citizens had 129 delegates present from this district at recent conventions.

There was no contest whatever, the delegates merely going through the formality of ratifying the choice of the leaders, made in advance. The one threatened fight for the poor directorship between W. H. Guy and D. K. Clever was averted by Mr. Clever's withdrawal. The machine's slate for delegates to the state convention also went through without a hitch and they departed for Harrisburg last night.

At Citizens headquarters there was considerable activity yesterday. The party will now go ahead and begin a campaign against the whole machine ticket, from congressmen down. The only candidate who will not be opposed is Congressman John Dalzell, who has already been nominated by both parties.

The general committee of 32 met and instructed D. B. Oliver, chairman of the fusion conference committee, to notify the Democratic committee appointed for the same purpose that the Citizens would be prepared for a conference at their headquarters tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. No trouble is expected in arranging a fusion ticket, except for congress and possibly legislature, where each party will have separate candidates.

The Citizens committee will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock to nominate the candidates for congress. It is probable that George Shiras III. will be offered the nomination in the Twenty-ninth district in opposition to Congressman W. H. Graham.

H. K. Porter Is Mentioned.

H. K. Porter is favorably mentioned for the nomination from the new downtown district, in which the machine has named James Francis Burke. In the Thirty-second district no one has yet been talked of as opponent to Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, but Citizens party men say they will have a strong candidate against him. They believe they can win all three districts in the fall.

Mr. Dalzell yesterday accepted the Citizens nomination in the Thirtieth district in the following letter:

PITTSBURGH, PA., June 9, 1902.

C. S. Crawford, Esq., John G. Messner, Esq., and James Evans, Esq., Committee:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter informing me that at the first meeting of the central committee of the Citizens party of Allegheny county I was unanimously nominated for congress from the Thirtieth congressional election district of Pennsylvania, assuring me of your hearty support, and expressing the belief that the citizens of the district are in hearty accord with the nomination.

I beg to assure you that I appreciate most heartily this generous expression of confidence in me upon the part of my fellow citizens of the Citizens party, and I also appreciate the very kind terms in which the notification is conveyed to me, coming as it does without any conditions or qualification.

Profoundly impressed with the honor that the Citizens party has done me, it shall be my earnest endeavor to merit it by such service as I may be able to render in the interest of all the people.

With assurances of my kind regards, believe me very truly yours,

JOHN DALZELL.

PROF. BRASHEAR TALKS ASTRONOMY TO YOUNG WOMEN

History of Research Conducted by Students Among Gentle Sex.

THIRTEEN GET DEGREES

Thirteen young women received degrees last evening at the annual commencement of the Pennsylvania College for Women. The commencement exercises were conducted in Dilworth hall, and were successfully carried out, despite the fact that the graduating class numbered 13.

The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. John A. Brashear, Sc. D., acting chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania, who took for his subject "The work of Women in the Domain of Astronomy." This basis of the address was the experience of Prof. and Mrs. Brashear during a visit in England and Europe, and to the homes of some of the famous astronomers of the last century.

Prof. Brashear said:

"There is no name more honored in the realm of astronomical research than that of Caroline Herschel. Patient, persevering, untiring, she carried on her observations of the heavenly bodies, her researches taking her beyond the achievements of her famous brother.

"Contemporaneous with Caroline Herschel was Mrs. Mary Somerville, whose work continued many years after the death of Caroline Herschel, and into the period when astronomical and physical science became so intimately related that the one was dependent upon the other. Lady Huggins was a co-worker with her husband, Sir William Huggins, secretary of the Royal Astronomical society, in writing 'The Mechanism of the Stars.' French women have also made an impression upon the study of the stars. Dorothy Klumpke, now in Italy, had charge of the Paris observatory, and her daring investigating spirit carried her during recent eclipses to study them from a balloon.

"In this country Miss Marie Mitchell of Vassar college was the first to make a name for herself. She established a system of practical observations which became the foundation of the best college astronomical study. She was followed by Miss Whitney, who carried on her work with success. There have been others. Today the work of Miss Fleming and Miss Murray in the observatory at Harvard is conspicuous for accuracy. Mrs. Mable Loomis Todd, wife of Prof. David Todd of Amherst, though not so great an observer, has made a great study of eclipses; is a fluent writer, and an excellent lecturer on astronomy. The work of women in the domain of astronomy stands for accuracy and mathematical precision, and in the royal astronomical college in Russia, women are engaged in preference to men for their greater accuracy and precision, and receive for their services higher salaries.

"Outside the practical work of women in astronomical research is the support by those whose wealth makes possible the achievement of years of study and observation. Miss Booth of New York contributed large sums for the purchase of instruments, Mrs. Phoebe Hearsh has given much to western institutions and Mrs. William Thaw provided Prof. Keeler with the spectroscope by which he determined the nature of the rings of Saturn."

The address was followed by the conferring of degrees by President Chalmers Martins. Miss Grace Addison Kingsburg received the degree of bachelor of literature. The degree of bachelor of arts was conferred upon Miss Mary Blair, Miss Elsie Braun, Miss Helen Barlow Dickey, Miss Annie McCutcheon Houston, Miss Clara Mary Littell, Miss Annie Dawson Montgomery, Miss Margaret Marshall McClelland, Miss Margaret E. McKinney, Miss Helen Ewing Sherrard, Miss Mary A. Shrom, Miss Edith Nicholson Stanton and Miss Elizabeth M. Van Wagener.

KING SMOKED DURING HIS OWN DEATH WATCH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, June 9.—King Albert of Saxony, who has been ill for some time, was unconscious for a part of last night. His majesty was surrounded by his family, who momentarily expected the end, and he had received the last sacraments.

This morning, however, his majesty sat up and had breakfast, smoked a light cigar and insisted upon disposing of some state business.

This exhibition of vitality on the part of the king has quite startled his physicians, who, however, entertain the gravest fears for the next relapse.

MRS. CARSPECKEN'S DEATH.

Grandmother of the Artist Passes Away in Ripe Old Age.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carspecken, one of the oldest residents of the North Side, and the grandmother of George L. Carspecken, one of the most prominent young artists in the United States, died last night at 6 o'clock at her home, No. 14 Charles street, Allegheny. Mrs. Carspecken was in her 86th year and had been a resident of this county for over 60 years. She was born in Frankfort, Germany, and came to the United States when 21 years old. She landed in Baltimore, Md., and shortly afterward was married to Frederick Carspecken, who died 23 years ago. Mrs. Carspecken is survived by three sons, Henry Carspecken of Oakland, Jr.; Louis, a civil engineer of Allegheny, and Charles Carspecken, an overseer at the Western penitentiary, Allegheny, and by three daughters, Miss Sophia, Mrs. Thomas Williams of Allegheny, and Mrs. James A. Stinson of Reno, Okla. She is also survived by 24 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MAY BUILD A NEW HOSPITAL WING

DIRECTORS OF THE SOUTH SIDE INSTITUTION MEET TONIGHT.

Plans Will Be Considered for an Addition to Cost About $30,000—Over 1,000 Patients Have Already Been Treated This Year, Which Is a Record.

At a meeting of the directors of the South Side hospital tonight plans for a new wing to the institution will be considered. This improvement has been urged by the members of the medical staff for over a year and the directors have finally been persuaded to consider the plans. It is probable that the plans presented by Superintendent A. D. Lloyd will be adopted and an effort made at once to raise the money.

The plans call for an addition to the south side of the hospital 48x40 feet. The new building will face on Mary street and connect with the main rooms of the hospital which face in Twentieth street. The cost of the proposed building is estimated at $30,000. If the money can be raised within three months and work started it will be ready for occupancy by January 1, 1903.

Four new wards will be provided by the new wing, male medical, male surgical, female medical and female surgical, and there will also be 25 private rooms.

A new addition seems absolutely necessary. The institution has been filled with patients for a year and in order to accommodate persons applying daily more room is necessary. Last month the hospital authorities were unable to care for all that came and many were refused admission.

The number of persons cared for during this hospital year will exceed 1,100. The record of 1,000 was reached last Saturday. On Friday afternoon a negro from the Wabash railroad camp at Green Tree tunnel was the 999th case. A baby born on Saturday made the even thousand. The fiscal year of the hospital does not end until July 1 and it is believed by the authorities that they will care for more than 100 persons between now and the end of the month.

The average number of patients for each month has been 75, while most of the time there have been 80 under treatment.

CONVICTS KILL GUARDS AND ESCAPE TO WOODS

Three Deaths Result From Break for Liberty Made by Two Oregon Prisoners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALEM, ORE., June 9.—Two desperate prisoners, Harry Tracy, sentenced to 20 years, and David Merrill, a 13-year man, serving sentences for assault and robbery committed in Multnomah county, escaped from the penitentiary this morning after killing three guards, Frank Ferrell, shop guard; S. R. Jones and Ben Tiffany, fencemen.

The prisoners had just marched into the foundry for work at 7 a. m. when Tracy appeared suddenly with a rifle and shot Guard Ferrell, killing him almost instantly. Ingram, a life prisoner, attempted to take the rifle from Tracy, when Merrell shot Ingram through the leg. Other prisoners, forced at the point of a pistol, permitted the two men to climb a ladder to the wall.

Getting outside they shot guard Jones at a distance of 150 yards. Guard Tiffany, after being wounded, jumped off the fence and followed the men, shooting at them until they killed him.

The prisoners then escaped into the woods. A posse of 40 men is out after the prisoners and have them located in the woods.

SALARIES CONSIDERED.

Allegheny Finance Committee Again Wrestles With the Question.

The committee on finance of Allegheny councils at its monthly meeting last night had another wrestle with ordinances increasing the salaries of city employes. It was decided that a sub-committee of five be appointed to consider all the salary ordinances before the general committee, not favorably recommended, and that the city controller and the city solicitor prepare for the sub-committee an exact statement of the financial condition of the city.

The following salary ordinances were recommended favorably: City physician, $1,200; city detectives, $1,500; assistant clerk in city treasurer's office, $1,200; linemen in bureau of electric lighting, $3 per day; lamp trimmers, dynamo tenders, firemen, light inspectors, general repairmen and wipers, $2.75 per day, and roremen in the bureau of water, $75 per month.

The ordinances fixing the salaries of the house plumbing inspector of the bureau of water at $1,500, that of the chief clerk in the bureau of health at $1,200, the superintendent of the bureau of water at $3,500, the superintendent of the bureau of water assessment at $2,300, the chief clerk in the bureau of water at $1,500 and those of the employes of the several pumping stations were referred to the sub-committee.

BIG BANK TRUST BEING PLANNED BY NEW YORKER

Company Organized Under Laws of New Jersey With $5,000,000 Capital.

SENDS OUT A CIRCULAR

Invites Co-operation in All the Leading Business Centers and in the State Capitals—Promises Great Financial Returns on Investment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 9.—A circular letter, dated New York, June 5, has been issued on the letter heads of the North American Trust Company, and signed by S. D. Scudder, 135 Broadway, New York, giving the details of the plans for combining national banks in all state capitals and financial centers under one ownership, one bank in each center. At the top of the circular, which is marked "Confidential" and sent each banker with whom the company is negotiating, is the following:

"American Bankers' Corporation, capital $5,000,000, surplus $45,000,000, chartered under the laws of New Jersey, general corporation act. 50,000 shares, par value $100, at $1,000 per share." The circular says:

"Recently the national banking act has been amended to permit of expansion in this direction by the establishment of small banks all over the country. So that, barring the question of taxation, there would seem to be at first thought little to prevent the organization of an immense national bank with this very purpose in view, provided it were established with large enough surplus to acquire a sufficient number of banks throughout the country.

"However, aside from the question of taxation there are other serious obstacles to the ownership of such banks under the national banking law. A safer and more profitable plan would be the formation of a corporation which could purchase and control a number of national banks and trust companies wherever it seemed profitable to do so.

"To this end such an institution has been chartered under the general corporation acts of New Jersey. The only taxes payable will be the annual one-tenth of 1 per cent on its capital of $5,000,000.

"The main office—nominally Jersey City—will be only the place of the stockholders once a year. No deposits will be accepted by the parent organization, which will confine its operations to the investment of capital. Its first purchase will be a large New York national bank.

"It will be absolutely necessary to own a national bank in New York city as well as at the other corporate central points in the United States, because our national banking laws compel national banks to designate as depositories only institutions which are organized under those laws."

The circular then goes on to show many advantages to be derived by this combination, and closes:

"Organization quietly and unostentatiously effected will materially aid, not only in launching such an institution, but also securing for it the various desirable plants through the country.

"There is no question these can be obtained on a sound business basis, viz.: One that would be of mutual advantage to the old stockholders and the new investor—the corporation."

Twelve Men and One Woman Meet Death in Chicago Hospital Fire.

NO CHANCE TO SAVE THEM

Building Burns Like a Tinder Box and Is Soon in Ruins—Aged Doctor Dies With the Patients in His Charge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 9.—Twelve men and one woman were killed and about 30 persons injured in a fire which this afternoon destroyed the sanitarium conducted by the St. Luke's society, at the corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-first street. The society occupied the building, which was long known as the Hotel Woodruff, and for a brief period as the Hotel Lancaster.

By far the greater portion of the patients in the institution were those taking cure for the drink habit and those who were addicted to the use of drugs. When the fire broke out there was on the fifth floor a number of patients suffering from delirium tremens, and some who were deranged by drugs. Several of these were strapped to their beds, and it was found impossible to save them, so rapidly did the fire spread through the building. It is possible that the list of victims will be increased later.

The dead:

S. S. NEWELL.
CARL A. CARLSON.
MICHAEL LUBY.
JOSEPH HARRINGTON.
SAMUEL DALZELL.
DR. J. T. STANTON.
J. B. BISHOP, St. Louis.
GEORGE A. RIBBECK, Hillsdale, Mich.
G. S. Gott, Cheyenne, Ill.
WILLIAM KENT, alderman of the Fourth ward, Chicago.
JOHN B. KNAPMAN.
CHARLES HAUMANN.
B. H. BOYD, 78 years old, and member of the medical staff of the institution.

Seriously Injured.

A. W. WATTLES, badly burned on the head and back, and internal injuries; will die.
MRS. AMELIA WILSON, burned about the body, and inhaled flame; will probably die.
MARY McMANNIS, badly burned about the body.
MATTIE JAMIESON, slightly burned and overcome by smoke.
MINNIE ELMS, slight burns about the face.
JOHN DOWNEY, Omaha, Neb., jumped from third story to roof of adjoining building; leg sprained.
[illegible] DAVIS, business manager of the sanitarium, slightly burned about the hands and face.
HENRY NORMAN, colored, burned about the hands and face.
FRANK JOHNSON, burned about the hands and face; not serious.
FRED KAFKA, cut by glass while trying to jump from a window on the fourth floor.
DR. H. L. LUSE, burned about the face and hands.
MRS. E. H. BOWMAN, burned while rescuing her 4-year-old daughter from third floor.
MARY BOWMAN, 4 years old, burned about face.
FIREMAN MICHAEL HADLEY, burned while rescuing Carl Carlson from fourth floor.
MRS. LEAH, Omaha, overcome by smoke.
G. F. RUPP, jumped from third floor into net; injured internally; will probably die.

Flames Spread Rapidly.

The fire originated in the basement of the building and spread rapidly to the upper stories through the elevator shaft. The blaze was discovered by James Newell, a grocer, who was driving through the alley in the rear of the building. He ran into the engine room and behind the boilers in the center of the cellar, within a few feet of the elevator shaft, he saw a small flame. The next instant the flames were caught by the draught in the elevator shaft and carried up with a roar.

Newell shouted to several men in the alley to give the alarm and to alarm the inmates of the building. Several hurried to do this, but by the time they reached the first floor of the building the flames had been carried to the roof, had eaten through it and were leaping high in the air.

As the cry of fire rang through the building patients sprang from their beds and before they could be prevented several had jumped from the windows to the pavement. The fire department was on the scene within a few minutes, and as the windows were filled with people shrieking for help, the firemen devoted their first efforts to saving lives and allowed the fire to burn.

While this was the means of saving a large number of people, who were carried down the ladders by the firemen, it gave the fire such a headway that there was almost no chance for those on the upper floors of the building to make their escape, and such of them as were not suffocated, were killed or badly injured by leaping from the windows.

Blind and Manacled.

Alderman Kent was in a room on the fifth floor with his attendant, A. W. Wattles. The alderman, who has been totally blind for many years, was in a straight jacket and his hands were manacled to a belt that passed around his waist. When the alarm of fire was sounded Wattles ran to investigate. He found the elevator shaft a mass of flames and ran back to help the alderman, who, blind and unable to do anything with his hands, was almost mad with fear, and was shouting like an insane person. He had groped his way to the door and by the time his attendant had reached him had fallen to the floor, overcome with smoke.

Wattles seized him and tried to drag him down the hall to a place of safety, but Kent had become so crazed that it was almost impossible to do anything with him. Wattles was finally compelled to run for his life, as the flames were already scorching his clothing. He run to a window on the south side of the building, across which were iron bars. Wattles managed to tear two of these from their fastenings and with the help of men who had followed him, climbed out on the sill. They were seen by the firemen, who called to them to remain where they were and they would save them.

Leaped From Window.

A ladder was run up as high as possible and the two men with Wattles were taken down. He became crazed with excitement, and, not waiting for the return of the firemen, sprang for a net which some men were holding on the sidewalk beneath. He fell partly in it and partly on the sidewalk and sustained injuries which probably will cause his death in a short time.

Kent was left lying on the floor of his room and evidently died of suffocation. Three hours after the outbreak of the fire his body was found on the floor of his room, one leg burned to a crisp and the head burned off. He was identified by his clothing.

In a room on the second floor was Dr. William Bunker of Chicago, who some time ago lost one of his legs in an accident. He was in bed when the fire broke out, and on going to the door of his room he found escape in that direction cut off. Hobbling to the window he climbed out on the sill. He was without clothing, and when he saw the great crowd below he crawled back into the smoke and came out again, wrapped in a blanket. He was soon taken down by the firemen, and when being carried away in an ambulance said that he would rather have been injured than have come out through that window undressed. Later his wooden leg was found and restored to him. He escaped without injury of any sort.

MOVED HOUSE IN THE NIGHT

Steel Company Took Possession of Property to Settle Dispute.

BUILT TIGHT BOARD FENCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 9.—The National Steel Company stole a march on the Capt. Green heirs in this city yesterday, took possession of a lot of ground in Mill street, whose title is in dispute, removed a two-story store building from the property and put a tight board fence around the lot, with a "No trespass" sign attached.

The lot is a triangular piece, bounded by Mill street, the property of the steel company and the Neshannock river. Its title has been in dispute between the heirs of Capt. Green and the steel company for several years, although it is said the heirs have paid all the taxes.

After midnight the steel company put its rigging gang to work, raised the store and put it on rollers and hauled it two blocks down the street, where it was placed on a vacant piece of ground belonging to the Lake Erie Railroad Company.

The store building was occupied by W. H. Waddington as a confectionery and restaurant. When he appeared to open his place of business yesterday morning the building was gone, the work of moving the house along the street having been accomplished before daylight, as required by a city ordinance.

TWO DROWNED IN CANAL.

Pittsburgh Man Assisted in Rescuing a Family Near Chillicothe, O.

CHILLICOTHE, O., June 9.—While returning from a picnic last night in a rowboat on the Ohio and Erie canal, Howard Faucett, a traveling salesman of Marietta, and Miss Minnie Buckart of this city were drowned. Six others in the boat were rescued.

The party included P. J. O'Neill of Pittsburgh and W. W. Anderson, wife and three children, of Erie, Pa. At Frick's mill the skiff got wedged in a lock and Miss Buckart and Faucett jumped overboard.

O'Neill, who had succeeded in reaching the top of the lock, attempted to assist Anderson in rescuing his wife, but she was too heavy and sank under the water. One of the children, aged 2 years, also fell from the floodgates into the water. O'Neill threw open the lower gates of the lock, letting out the water and all the Anderson family were saved.

HAD SYMPATHY FOR PRISONER

A Steubenville Mail Carrier, Charged With Theft, Gets Off With Fine.

ADMONISHED BY THE JUDGE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—A bit of sentiment crept into the United States court today. Russell Jimison, a Steubenville mail carrier, was arraigned on a charge of delaying postal cards and pilfering money from letters. The specific charge of theft upon which he was brought before the bar was that of taking $5 50 from a letter. Postmaster Miller and Assistant Postmaster Irwin of Steubenville, came out to attend the trial and persuade him to acknowledge to the court that he had taken the money.

Miller and Irwin testified for the accused. They told the court that for 12 years he had been a model employe; that he had been happy in the possession of a wife and three children, and that his previous reputation for honesty was spotless. His wife, they said, died recently, and he became despondent and took to drink. The theft of the money followed.

Judge Thompson looked hard at the prisoner for a full minute. "Young man," he said, "I believe you want to be honest, and that you have seen the result of being otherwise. I want you to reform; to take care of your little ones, and for this reason, I shall save you from prison. I shall fine you $50. Pay it at $10 a month. Now go and be honest and regain your place among men."

The tears streamed down the prisoner's face as he left the court room to return at once to his children.

"Burglar Jim" Anderson, who was arrested at Johnstown, Pa., pleaded guilty to postoffice robbery today.

CANONSBURG TO CELEBRATE.

Program Arranged for Centennial Festivities on June 28.

CANONSBURG, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—Arrangements for the centennial celebration of the incorporation of Canonsburg, which will be held Thursday, June 26, were about completed at the meeting of the central committee this evening. Thousands of visitors from all over Western Pennsylvania are expected to attend. Special trains will be run from Pittsburgh and all nearby points. An industrial, military and civic parade will move over the principal streets. At noon an aeronaut will make a balloon ascension and the feature will be repeated in the evening.

The presentation of the memorial tablet by the Pittsburgh descendants of Col. John Canon, the founder of Canonsburg, will take place at 1 o'clock at the borough building. These descendants will hold a reunion during the day in one of the public school buildings.

NO STRIKE AT PRESENT.

Conservative Element in Iron Molders' Union Prevails.

The three Pittsburgh organizations of the Iron Molders' union held a mass meeting in Old City hall last night to consider the refusal by their employers of a demand for 10 per cent advance in wages. An effort was made to have a strike called at once, but the conservative element of the men dominated and it was decided that without the sanction of the national organization of the union a strike would prove futile.

The report of a recent conference of a committee representing the Pittsburgh molders, with the Pittsburgh members of the National Founders' association, was presented at the meeting. The employers decided to meet the wage advance demanded. The matter will now go over till the dictation of President Martin Fox, of the molders' union, and other executives, is received.

MR. ROOSEVELT MAKES NEW MOVE IN STRIKE CASE

He Sends Labor Commissioner to Confer With President Mitchell.

THEY MET IN NEW YORK

Neither Would Discuss the Result of the Interview—Secretary Easley of the Civic Federation Also Attends the Meeting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 9.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America arrived here late this afternoon, he having been sent for by Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, who is here investigating the anthracite coal miners' strike.

Mr. Mitchell first called on Secretary Ralph M. Easley of the National Civic Federation, and the two tonight went to the Manhattan hotel, where Mr. Wright is stopping. President Mitchell went to the commissioner's room, where he remained in conference with Mr. Wright for two hours. When he left, Mr. Mitchell said:

"I have but little to say, further than that I have talked with Commissioner Wright and have explained to him the situation from the miners' standpoint, and have told him of the causes which led up to the strike."

"Was there any suggestion of a settlement made during the interview?" President Mitchell was asked.

"No; I understood that Commissioner Wright was simply seeking information for an informal report under the law."

"Did Commissioner Wright explain to you President Roosevelt's views concerning the trouble?"

"He did not."

President Mitchell said he would leave for Wilkesbarre late tonight or in the morning.

Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, said that for him to tell what he intended to do might seriously interfere with his investigation of the strike. He said that sections 7 and 8 of the law under which the labor bureau is operated charged the commissioner to investigate and report on all labor disputes.

"Of course," said Mr. Wright, "I cannot interfere or act as arbitrator. Although I am going to report on existing conditions, as a patriotic citizen, President Roosevelt is interested in settling this trouble. I cannot interfere, but can advise the Governor and the officials. Investigation may reveal chinks in the situation which have not as yet been touched upon in the general report and upon which he may be able to act. He wants all the information obtainable, and all the energies of my department are being directed to that end. Perhaps we may be able to discover something below the surface."

Reports From Every Field Indicate That All Collieries Are Running With Short Forces.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 9.—According to reports today the strike appears to be spreading. In the Elk river region the United Mine Workers organized last night with a membership of 40, and as a result the mines were idle today. An organization was effected at Queen Shoals tonight and the men are expected out tomorrow. At Blackband 400 men have quit work. At Winifred, the largest mine in the field, employing 600 men, it is claimed that all will come out unless the strike is speedily settled. In the Loup Creek field here probably 10 per cent of the men were at work today.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., June 9.—The strikers are marching from town to town along the west fork of the Monongahela river. They number several hundred. An outdoor meeting was held at Monongah again this afternoon. The strikers returned to Shinetown tonight. All the mines were in operation today.

KEYSTONE, W. VA., June 9.—The mines in the Flat Top and Tug River fields are practically at a standstill. About 5 per cent of the miners are at work at Elk Ridge, Lynchburg, Eureka and Mill Creek.

DAVY, W. VA., June 9.—A hundred or more union miners went to work today. Many guards armed with Winchesters are patroling the vicinity.

HANDLEY, W. VA., June 9.—The strike situation in the Kanawha field is more serious. Operators acknowledge that by the middle of the week not a mine in the field will be in operation.

BLUEFIELDS, W. VA., June 9.—The strike in the Flat Top region is about complete. Some of the operations are attempting to load coal with a few men. Not over 8 per cent of the miners are at work.

MIDDLESBORO, KY., June 9.—About 5,000 miners and coke workers in Buchanan county, W. Va., and in Wise and Scott counties, Va., refused to obey strike orders and are at work.

ROANOKE, VA., June 9.—Out of the 43 operations in the Pocahontas field 39 are closed and the remaining six are working with reduced forces.

Closing of the Grand's Season.

Flowers bloom on every side in the capacious lobbies and foyer of the Grand opera house. The crowds that visited the theater yesterday afternoon and last night were large and indicated that the closing week at Manager Davis' play house will be one of unusual brilliancy. "Lady Godiva," the new Clarke play, in which Miss Sarah Truax hopes to star next season, had been greatly quickened in its action, and with more familiarity with the lines, the players give greater emphasis to the beauty of Mr. Clarke's blank verse. Photographs of the members of the company will be distributed to the ladies at the matinee performances this week, and the usual receptions held on the stage by the players. On Saturday night goodbys will be said in a general reception and speeches of farewell delivered by the members of the company, making the night a gala one, and marking the close of one of the most prosperous seasons the Grand ever had.

BOUND AND GAGGED BY DARING ROBBER

MRS. GEORGE S. DAVIS' THRILLING EXPERIENCE YESTERDAY.

Surprised the Thief at Work in Her Husband's Office and Was Imprisoned in a Rear Room—Money and Watches Stolen and $800 Overlooked.

Bound and gagged and thrust into the rear room of her husband's office, Mrs. George S. Davis of McKees Rocks lay unconscious while a daring burglar rifled the safe and disappeared. Eight hundred dollars was overlooked by the thief.

George S. Davis' real estate office at McKees Rocks is in Chartiers avenue, next to the postoffice. Yesterday noon when Mrs. Davis went to the office, during the temporary absence of her husband, she saw a stranger at the safe. When she spoke to him he quickly turned, revolver in hand, and ordered her to keep quiet and go to the rear room.

There the man bound her hands, thrust the end of a towel into her mouth and locked her in the room. The man then walked from the office.

Ten minutes later Mr. Davis returned. Hearing the groans of his wife, he unlocked the door, loosened her bonds, and in a few minutes she was able to tell of her experience. The police were sent for, and a good description of the man given, but up to a late hour last night they had been unable to ascertain which way the man went after leaving the office door.

An examination of the safe revealed that from one drawer $80 had been taken and from another two watches, worth about $50. In a drawer in the steel box was $800 which the thief had not been able to reach. All of the papers had been gone through.

The man must have worked for 15 minutes in plain view of people passing. The front of the office is of plate glass, and the safe stood where it could be plainly seen from the street. The man is described as tall and wearing a gray suit of clothes. Mrs. Davis was not injured.

MR. ROBERT SIMPKINS,
HAD CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

"I AM WELL AND STRONG TO-DAY."

"Doctors Called It Appendicitis"—Pe-ru-na Cured.

Mr. Robert Simpkins, Portal, N. D., writes:

"About a year ago I was suffering with pains in my stomach and bowels and the doctors said that I had appendicitis, and that an operation was necessary. I was miserable, as I could neither eat nor sleep. I wrote to Dr. Hartman and he advised me to follow his directions, which I gladly did, and today I am a well man, thanks to this wonderful medicine, Peruna. Peruna is the best thing on the market today for catarrh." Robert Simpkins.

Mr. R. M. Baker, a prominent citizen of Buckhead, Ga., writes in a recent letter his experience with Peruna to build up a broken down system. He says:

"Some time ago I was troubled with catarrh of the stomach and spent lots of money in buying so-called catarrh medicines and paying doctors' bills. Peruna were recommended to me by a friend and after taking a few bottles I am happy to say that I am entirely cured.

"I can recommend Peruna, because I believe it to be the best catarrh remedy on the market. My whole system was out of order and my health generally was very bad, but since taking Peruna I am now enjoying better health than I can ever remember, and fully believe that Peruna did the work. I shall always speak a good word in its behalf."

Hon. Thos. J. Henderson, Member of Congress from Illinois and Lieutenant in the Union Army for eight years, writes from the Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"Peruna has been used in my family with the very best results and I take pleasure in recommending your valuable remedy to my friends as a tonic and an effective cure for catarrh."—Thos. J. Henderson.

Catarrh assumes different phases in different seasons of the year. In the summer the stomach and bowels suffer the offenest as the seat of the trouble. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ROSTAND MAKES FUN OF THE INJUNCTION AGAINST HIS PLAY

ADMITS STEALING HISTORY FROM GROSS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, June 9.—Edmund Rostand, who had hitherto not made any statement regarding the judgment of the United States district court of Chicago granting Samuel Eberle Gross, the author of "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," an injunction against further performances of "Cyrano de Bergerac," on the ground that M. Rostand's play plagiarized situations in Mr. Gross', writes today from a watering place that he has always refused to take the affair seriously, but that some day, perhaps, he may recount the serio-comic incidents of the suit against him though actually brought against another person, and adds:

"The Gross manuscript was twice in Paris, first in 1879, when I was 11 years old; secondly in 1897, when 'Cyrano' was known to all my friends. I only ask to have in my hands a translation of the Chicagoan's piece. I have written to my editor to strive to procure and publish it.

"In the meantime I am ready to admit I took from 'Cyrano de Bergerac' his name, and the Panache hotel from Burgundy; Regueneaus from a cookshop; Roxane kissing Cyrano's words on Christian's lips from 'A Voyage to the Moon,' and the siege of Arras and the cadets of Gascony, in fact all our 17th century history, from Eberle Gross of Chicago, and in order to end the matter once for all I confess I stole 'Les Romanesques' from Smithson of Jefferson City, Mo.; 'La Princess Lointaine' from Giles Trumbull of Columbus, O.; 'L'Aiglon' from 'Tom' Sambo of Springfield, Ill., and that I drew the idea of 'La Samaritaine' from the Apocryphal gospel of the Rev. Hon. Augustus Wonagcott of Hartford, Conn.

"I add that I am negotiating at the present moment with a Virginia planter for the purchase of a manuscript, and that I have just purloined from the house of a Louisiana ship owner a great piece on 'Joan of Arc, the maid of New Orleans.'"

STEEL CORPORATION BUYING IRON ABROAD

BERLIN, June 9.—The United States Steel Corporation is negotiating for 20,000 tons of spiegeleisen at Siegen. A recent sale of 6,000 tons of spiegeleisen having resulted in heavy loss to the sellers, the latter are now trying for better terms, and negotiations to this end are delaying the sale to the steel corporation.

NINE GIRLS DIE IN LONDON FIRE

Equipment Inadequate for Rescue of Victims from Five-Story House.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 9.—The inadequacy of the fire department of London has again been demonstrated by nine fatalities which attended a comparatively small blaze in the center of the city this afternoon.

The fire occurred in the upper portion of a five-story building adjoining the Mansion House station in the busiest section of London. The first extension ladders to arrive at the scene could not be elevated to the height of the fourth-story, and inmates of the upper floors were compelled to jump down into a tarpaulin which had been hastily commandered by the firemen from a passing fruit van. Several of those who jumped were badly injured and others who refused to take this risk disappeared within the smoking windows.

Several hours relapsed before the casualties were ascertained. It was then found that nine girls had been burned to death and that fifteen persons had been injured, one probably fatally. The bodies of the dead were all badly burned and two could not be recognized.

SUICIDE IN CHURCH.

Organist Saturates Clothes With Kerosene and Applies a Match.

BAY CITY, MICH., June 9.—After saturating his clothing with kerosene, Joseph Rejch set fire to himself in the Catholic church at Fisherville. His charred remains were discovered in front of the altar Sunday morning.

Holes had been burned through the church floor by his blazing body. Rejch was the organist of the church. He was temporarily insane.

THREE CARDINALS ARE CREATED BY THE POPE IN ROME

Red Hats Bestowed Upon Mgr. Martinelli and Two Prince-Bishops.

AMERICAN BISHOPS ARE ALSO APPOINTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, June 9.—The pope was present at the consistory this morning and formally bestowed red hats on Mgrs. Martinelli, formerly papal delegate in the United States; Prince-Archbishop Skrbensky of Prague and Prince-Bishop von Prezyna of Cracow. The pontiff also appointed several bishops, including the Very Reverend William J. Kenny, vicar general of Jacksonville, Fla., as bishop of St. Augustine, Fla., in succession to the late Bishop Augustin Verot, and the Very Reverend Philip J. Garrigan, vice rector of the Catholic university at Washington, as bishop of Sioux City, Ia.

Subsequently, at the secret consistory, the pontiff delivered a short allocution. After thanking God for preserving his life to attain the pontifical jubilee, the pope expressed his gratification at the pilgrimages to Rome, and deplored the acts of the enemies of the Catholic faith in seeking to dechristianize Italy, particularly Rome, by spreading and protecting heresy, Protestantism and pornography, by writings, speeches and theatrical representations.

All the cardinals now in Rome, numerous bishops, prelates, diplomatists, Roman nobles, the pontifical court and a host of privileged spectators attended the consistory. The pope, who was in excellent health, was everywhere received with enthusiastic acclamations.

Judge Taft, governor of the Philippine Islands, and the Americans with him, were invited to witness the ceremony. The party occupied seats in the diplomatic gallery, in the sala regia (entrance hall to the Sistine chapel). As the pontiff passed he recognized them and smilingly bowed to the Americans.

The pope was highly delighted with President Roosevelt's gift of a complete set of the latter's works, and confirms the report that the pontiff issued orders that mosaics of St. Peter's and the vatican be transmitted to the president, with his thanks. These mosaics are magnificent specimens of this branch of the art and are made at the vatican workshops.

FAILED TO ELECT A PRINCIPAL IN 54 MORE BALLOTS

No Successor to Rose McCreary in the Eighteenth Ward Chosen.

THERE IS A POLITICAL END

One Member of the Board Willing to Tramp on Somebody's Toes—Thirteenth Ward Board Names Its Teachers—Other School Matters.

The Mt. Albion sub-district school board met again last night to elect a principal, but after taking 54 ballots failed to come to a decision. The session was enlivened by several tilts between old and new members of the board, and had the former desired it the discussion would have been much warmer, for Mr. Miller, one of the recently elected members, threatened, if required, to go into matters specifically and to "tread on somebody's toes."

There were 18 applicants for the position, many from other places, Seattle, Wash.; Grove City, Pa.; McKeesport, Connellsville, Warrenburg and Beaver Falls being among the towns represented. The real contest was between Miss Rose McCreary, the present principal, who has filled the position for 26 years, and Miss Jennie Martin, who has been re-elected assistant principal. The other applicants were only nominally in the field and were voted for by the directors during the monotonous balloting as a matter of diversion.

Facius Stirred Up Things.

After the 31st ballot Mr. Miller proposed a discussion of the merits of the applicants, although he said it was without precedent to do so before spectators. The members decided to talk the matter over, but Miss McCreary's name was the only one brought up. Messrs. Kirkpatrick, Facius and George had voted solidly for her and championed her cause against Messrs. Miller, Sheehan and Gallagher. They spoke of her educational ability and the standard to which she had brought the Albion schools. Mr. Miller replied by adding sharply: "Excellent educational results will compensate for some slips, but not for all."

This remark caused somewhat of a sensation, but Mr. Facius quieted matters by stating that the principal question had not been a political issue in the last campaign. Mr. Miller insisted that it had been, and that he had been approached by no less than 100 people when he was a candidate and asked his standing on the question of electing a new principal. He said he believed he had no general popularity which would elect him in the ward and that he had been elected for a specific purpose.

Miss McCreary's Political Ventures.

Mr. Facius said he did not question Miss McCreary's ability as an educator, but her political ventures had produced the present situation.

Mr. Facius, after stating that he had been elected on a platform calculated to "stop up the holes of corruption," threatened to cause ill-feeling and "tread on some one's toes" if asked to be more specific in his opposition to Miss McCleary. He believed in the promotion of instructors in the schools and on that account he was favorable to Miss Martin. The board will meet again next Friday night.

The school board of the Minersville sub-district, Thirteenth ward, met last night and elected William J. C. Floyd, president; Oscar E. Adams, secretary, and Henry Relter, treasurer. W. S. McCutcheon, the present member of the central board of education, was re-elected.

Committees were appointed to arrange for the dedication of the new school on Madison avenue during the last week of August. The teachers elected were:

Thirteenth Ward Teachers.

Assistant principals, Mary Erskine, Laura Bridges, J. C. Patterson, E. R. McCutcheon and N. C. Bradley; supervisor of drawing, Mary E. Ellenmeyer; grammar department, Eva Dolan, S. E. Meerhoff, Cora Krause, Mary Bridges, Sadie Johnston and Pearl Mattingly; primary department, Anna Canan, Bertha A. Gammon, Bertha A. Norris, F. A. Neubert, A. M. Kenan, I. A. Schempp, K. M. Sawyer, K. H. Curry, Margaret E. Lowry, Bertha V. Johnson, Dorothy J. Wilkinson, M. H. Scully, M. J. Fitzsimmons, Mary E. O'Brien, S. H. Bostwick, Maud Sheen, Minnie Arnold, W. Woodliff, Louise Sing, E. Conway, Mary C. Wilson, Rose H. Walsh, Annie Lathwood, Alice D. Falkman, Bessie D. Askin, Catherine M. Floyd, Margaret J. Morris, Mary A. MacMunn, Margaret M. Wells, W. Yarborough, Olive Paul, Margaret Lloyd, Rose E. Philson, Claudia Pontius and Harriett E. Smith.

Prof. John Golden, principal of the Minersville schools, was elected last year for a three years' term.

The Forbes public school board, Sixth ward, has organized, with Evan Jones as chairman; Randolph Wagner as secretary, and Charles Staley, treasurer. Miss Jennie Simpson, the principal, and the entire staff of teachers have been re-elected. Two of the new members, Randolph Wagner and H. W. Petsinger, were elected on the Citizens ticket last February.

The Twenty-fifth ward school board organized last evening by electing George W. Jones, president; John McKain, secretary, and Henry W. Viehman, Jr., treasurer.

PAINT WAS NOT DRY.

The Elizabeth Was Detained Yesterday, but Starts Out Today.

The steamer Elizabeth was unable to leave yesterday for Morgantown for the reason that her interior painting was not sufficiently dry. She will get out today at 3 p. m. Another embarrassment that was aggravating to the company was the fact that the steamer Gertrude lost two of her rudders while coming up through the trap at Sewickley. They were forced off in shoal water, the steamer drawing 7½ feet at the stern or as much water as there was in the Ohio river at low water.

A flange on the wheel was broken and it will take several days to make repairs, after which the boat will enter the Morgantown trade. The steamer Florence Belle was sent down to tow the Gertrude into port. The pilot, William Blackstock, was given great credit for bringing the boat up the river that far on such scant water. Stones were placed on the Gertrude's head to lighten up the stern of the steamer.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

An Important Disclosure.

Amid the turmoil of claims and conflict of opinion preceding the arrival of delegates one bit of substantial information came out at Harrisburg yesterday. It was that the delegates instructed for ex-Lieutenant Governor Watres will act with those supporting Judge Pennypacker in organizing the convention. Though Mr. Watres, who gave this information, declined to say to whom his delegates would go, if they could not effect his own nomination, he made the significant remark that he and they were all anxious to have harmony in the party.

The desire for harmony is not confined to the Watres forces. It is widespread. It ought to be the wish of every delegate, not only for harmony, but for the nomination of the strongest ticket, that one that will give most aid to the party candidates, for other offices in the close districts. There are marked indications that the ordinary party majority in Pennsylvania is not to be relied upon unless a state ticket shall be nominated that will command general respect and confidence, but even if a majority for the state ticket could be depended upon it would be a selfish sacrifice of party interests to lose sight of the county and congressional tickets in making up the state ticket. It is of the first importance to maintain the Republican strength of the state in congress, both for the work of that body and the success of the national ticket two years hence.

Efforts to Settle the Strike.

The summoning of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, to New York city for the purpose of discussing a plan for settlement of the strike in the anthracite region, encourages the hope that an agreement will be reached. As the invitation to President Mitchell came from Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, it is reasonably inferred that a way to settlement has been discovered, and this inference is strengthened by the fact that Commissioner Wright has been conferring with President Roosevelt on the anthracite miners' strike.

It is evident that there is need of prompt action, for dispatches from the scene of the labor trouble report that mining property is now being badly damaged by the encroachment of water, owing to the suspension of work by firemen and pumpmen. The loss is not confined to the mine owners, for the thousands of men and boys thrown idle by the strike are also suffering financially, their loss in wages being estimated at considerably more than $5,000,000. Including the losses to other workingmen and to business interests, the cost of the strike is estimated at nearly $22,000,000, and every day of idleness is adding more thousands of dollars to the expense account. The time is ripe for a settlement of the differences between the operators and the miners, and it is to be hoped the conference in New York will be speedily followed by resumption of work.

Another Disfranchising Constitution.

The Richmond Times is exceedingly frank in its reasons for approving the proclamation of the new Virginia constitution. It says that submission to the people would mean a long and a bitter contest, of which all would be ashamed after the election was over, and adds this significant sentence: "The Democrats would not have permitted the constitution to be defeated. It is best to do it this way. The whole movement is revolutionary, and the simplest and quickest way of disposing of the subject is the best."

This acknowledgment that the whole movement is revolutionary, and that the Democrats would not permit the constitution to fail of ratification, deserves to stand alongside of Senator Tillman's confession that violence is resorted to in his state and other southern states to prevent negro citizens from voting. The intention was to count a majority for the Virginia constitution, just as a majority was counted for the Alabama constitution, in case the party had kept its pledge to submit the instrument to a vote, but the trouble of doing this is all averted by the simple expedient of putting the constitution into operation without the assent of the people. If any considerable number of Democrats were opposed to the new constitution, there was a strong probability that it would have failed of approval in a fair election. The party plurality in the last presidential election was only 36,000, out of a total vote of about 264,000, and there must be among the Virginia Democrats some opposed to the disfranchising proposed by the constitution, while the citizens it deprives of their votes could be depended upon to work against it. The opposition would have worked in vain, however, for the Democrats who made the constitution would have seen that it went through the form of ratification.

The country at large is interested in the proclaiming of the Virginia constitution, because it extends to another state the negro disfranchising movement which has had so successful a run through the south, and adds another commonwealth to the list of those states in which a white Democrat's vote is worth considerably more than a Republican's vote in northern states. This result is reached because congress has failed to put into force the constitutional requirement that disfranchisement of citizens by any state shall be followed by a reduction of that state's representation in the house of representatives. The disfranchised citizens are still counted for apportionment purposes, and their enemies wield the political influence that rightly belongs to those deprived of voting privileges.

Allegheny County Conventions.

Nominations were made by the several congressional, senatorial, legislative, county and delegate conventions in this county yesterday without a break in the slate. This result was expected. The slate was made by the old organization. It refused all suggestions looking to separation of the delegate primaries from those for other offices. In consequence there were no contests, the opposition believing the time was too short to make an effective campaign. The fight will be made in the name of the Citizens party at the general election.

For a majority of the county offices the present incumbents were renominated. The new men are Mackrell for sheriff, Kopp for clerk of courts and Foster for treasurer. They are new only in the sense of being transferred from one office to nomination for another. For congress in the Thirtieth district John Dalzell was renominated without any questions being asked concerning his previous nomination by the Citizens party, a course that was wise and natural. W. H. Graham was renominated in the Twenty-ninth. James F. Burke and A. J. Barchfeld were chosen to represent the new Thirty-first and Thirty-second districts respectively, without opposition, that, as in the case of the county and legislative offices, being reserved for the general campaign, if at all. One of the most conspicuous changes was the nomination of T. J. Ford to succeed William Flinn in the Forty-fourth senatorial district. Mr. Flinn, as everyone knows, retired from politics in a fit of disgust.

About all that can be said further concerning these nominations is that it would have been much better if they had been postponed to a later date. If anyone is lost in the campaign that is to follow the responsibility will rest upon the machine leaders who persisted in their arbitrary course despite protests.

Delaying Urgent Business.

Select council gave an exhibition last evening of how well it is organized to delay the public business. The ordinance to transfer $7,000 from the contingent fund to the health bureau must go over two weeks because it was reported from the irregular committee. The funds are needed for the disinfection of premises where there have been contagious diseases. The need is urgent. It is one of the measures essential to prevention of epidemics. But the community may suffer while the select council demonstrates through its rump committee "how not to do it." The sooner those useless, irregular committees are abandoned, the better.

American Poloists Defeated.

At last English athletes have succeeded in scoring a triumph over Americans, the team representing this country having been defeated in the polo tournament at Hurlingham. It was a decisive victory, too, for the Englishmen won by six goals to one for their competitors. The defeat, however, will not cause any heartburnings on this side of the ocean, for the long series of victories for American prowess in athletics had almost become monotonous.

Yankee jockeys, pugilists and college athletes have won so often and so easily in contests with our British cousins that the polo setback should really be regarded as a welcome change. It furnishes proof that the Englishmen know how to play one game, but if they become unduly boastful the chances are that American poloists will organize a stronger team and take the conceit out of them. The Britishers must look to their laurels.

Literary Censorship in Chicago.

Boston has been robbed of her proud prerogative; the center of literary gravity has been shifted. Following the adjuration of Charles Kingsley, the star of empire in the censorship of literature has taken a westward course and has reared its altars on the banks of Lake Michigan. The influence of the Chicago college professor has struck deep into the soil of Chicago's fair and fallow field. Edmond Rostand, the French dramatist, has been hauled into court in the Windy city and convicted of stealing some of his happiest inspirations from the fires of genius that burn upon Chicago altars. Cyrano de Bergerac was not a Parisian, not even French; he was a Chicagoan. But this court decision was a victory for the select few only, the high priests of Chicago's new literary cult.

The people, the great masses of inoculated, but still inconspicuous literary and critical molecules, panted for an opportunity to put on record their new-found sense of power. It came the other evening in an altogether unexpected way, but Chicago rose equal to the occasion. At a performance of an old and almost threadbare play written more than a half a century ago by Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton, the audience interrupted a line spoken by one of the players in the light of Chicago's new and effulgent literary scholarship and immediately and unanimously disapproved of it. With indignant hisses Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton, had he been present in the flesh, was made to look like the most disreputable 30 cents that was ever gathered into three dimes of the coin of the realm. The players were startled, the uninitiated members of the audience looked on in wonder and amazement, while thousands of Chicago's vigorous critics consigned Bulwer-Lytton to the rubbish pile. It was a sad but glorious sight. It marked the literary death of poor dapper, fastidious Lytton, but it signified the bursting from their cocoons of Chicago's brilliant army of literary and critical butterflies of culture. Great is Chicago!

West Point's Centenary.

While the actual centenary of West Point military academy occurred on the 16th of March last, the special observance of the important event was postponed for obvious reasons until after the regular session of the school and will be held this week. President Roosevelt and Secretary Root, together with many representative civilians and military notables, will attend the centennial exercises, and the event will be made a red letter period in the history of this, admittedly the finest military school in the world. The history of West Point military academy is rich in memories of American bravery and manhood. The school was at first neglected by the government and laughed at by the people, who derided the idea of teaching men how to become soldiers, but its promoters and friends persisted in their efforts until after the war of 1812 it entered upon a career that has since made it famous. In 1803 only three students graduated from the institution, while this year a small army of men, recruited from every state in the union, will pass out from the barracks at West Point to enter the military service of their country.

To Col. Albert Thayer, who was president of the college from 1818 to 1833, historians give the largest share of credit for the establishment upon a sound basis of the school. Congress has only recently authorized the expenditure of $5,000,000 for new buildings and future support, so that the celebration of the first centennial finds the historic institution entering upon an era of usefulness commensurate with the growing influence and importance of the American nation as a world power. The militarism of the present age finds in West Point military academy the highest development of the art of making soldiers. The course of instruction, the spirit of military life and discipline have here reached a point of excellence not to be found anywhere else, though the institution is many years younger than some of its foreign rivals.

The mosquito has the advantage of the seventeen-year locust in that there is no possible way of making a stew of him for the gratification of new food experimenters.

Chicago has opinions of her own. She has declared Rostand to be a plagiarist and hissed Bulwer-Lytton all within a week.

Doctor Mark Hanna's anesthetic for violent political patients seems to have failed to take effect in several instances out in Ohio.

Neither Rudyard Kipling nor Web Davis have consented to declare themselves as satisfied with the results in South Africa.

Several popular school teachers in this neck of the woods are very busy these days looking up means for the prevention of seasickness.

Gov. Stone will not be compelled to keep up such frantic pressure on the soft pedal while trying to run the orchestra after this week.

The mornings are quite cool in these parts, but the only heavy frosts of the week will doubtless be reported from the neighborhood of the state capital.

Special Envoy Whitelaw Reid will have an opportunity this week to try on his new upholstery.

Seaside and mountain resort proprietors are growing quite over-heated anathematizing the cool weather.

It should not be forgotten that the people will act as final umpire in that game at Harrisburg this week.

Mauna Loa's effort to get into the Mont Pelee class is sure to cause considerable inconvenience and annoyance in Hawaii.

Philadelphia's Idea of J. G. B.

From the Philadelphia Times.

The outcome of the Republican state convention, to be held at Harrisburg this week, apparently depends upon the nature of Gov. Stone's control over the Allegheny delegation, and on the other hand upon the inroads made by Quay's agents in the delegations from eastern counties.

The Stone-Elkin combination has secured a solid delegation from Allegheny county, which is in the hands of Recorder J. O. Brown, whose appointment by Stone was the cause of the break which led to the defeat of Elkin. If Brown can be trusted these votes, with the addition of a number of delegates secured in Saturday's primaries in several other counties, bring Elkin within sight of the nomination, provided all the delegates promised to him stand fast. But Brown is a trader, and if he can see an opportunity to rehabilitate the Pittsburgh machine he probably would not hesitate to betray his present friends as they betrayed their former friends in his appointment.

BIG POLICE SHAKE-UP STIRS GOTHAM FOLK.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 9.

After repeatedly threatening the police force of Greater New York with a "shakeup," Commissioner Partridge did it today, and, in the vernacular, "did it good." Officially the statement is made that he transferred four inspectors and 15 captains. Besides this good work he appointed seven sergeants to be captains. So far as the public can judge there is little difference to be expected in the policing of the city by the moving about of captains and inspectors. Jerome, the district attorney, casually refers to the proceeding by saying: "Nothing can be gained by shifting one grafter from one precinct to another. It is better to leave grafters where they are and watch them. Then, if possible, get evidence against them; and if you do not get it, 'break' them." The police are such an important element in New York life that every move among them is watched by the public at large with a closeness that Pittsburghers would find it hard to understand. The political power of the police department is practically overwhelming, and although the politics enters more or less into police affairs in all cities, it is doubtful if there is another city in the United States—with the exception of Chicago—where the government of the community is swayed so largely by the influence of police officials. Not only the big men in the department, but the roundsman and even the patrolman has his "pull," which must be respected. Commissioner Partridge does not seem to have consulted politicians in the "shakeup" made today, but political effect of his action is materially widely discussed. A policeman is a power, to a greater or lesser extent, where votes are sought. Some of the captains who have been active in politics in the tenement districts of Manhattan have been sent to far-away corners of Brooklyn, or up "among the goats" of the Bronx, and there must be a reorganization of forces by Tammany leaders who depend a great deal on the co-operation of the police. So far as the protection of the city and the repression of crime is concerned, it does not appear that the "shakeup" will exercise any effect at all worth speaking of.

Irishman Smashes a Swindler.

He was a middle-aged Irishman, with broad shoulders, and a truculent expression on his red face. He was waiting for an "L" train at Bleecker street this afternoon, and it occurred to him that he would like to know how much he weighed. He put his cent in the slot and one of the automatic weighing machines that are at every "L" station and stood on the platform. As so often happens, the thing was out of order, but the slot yawned, wide-open as usual. The hand on the dial did not move. The Irishman wiggled the machine by shaking himself violently, and he tapped the dial. No effect. Slowly he realized that he had been beaten out of a cent. With equal deliberation he stepped from the platform, picked up a heavy iron spittoon at the waiting room door, and then, without hurrying himself, hurled the spittoon with all the force of his muscular frame full into the glass face of the dial. There was a smash that could be heard above the roar of the train just pulling into the station. But the Irishman, calmly and without haste, stepped aboard one of the cars and was on his way uptown before the dazed ticket chopper at the station had pulled himself together sufficiently to ask the conductor of the train to stop. The Irishman rode up to Thirty-third street, making an occasional remark below his breath. I did not hear all he said, but part of his observation at least consisted of indignant profanity.

Kronprinz Wilhelm Shows Her Heels.

There was much interest downtown among the steamship offices when the news came that the North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm had broken the record for the eastern voyage across the Atlantic. She left New York last Tuesday and reached Plymouth today, having covered the 3,065 miles in 5 days, 11 hours and 32 minutes. This was an average speed of 23.54 knots an hour. The best previous speed record was made by the Deutschland of the Hamburg-American line in July last year, when she logged 3,062 miles between New York and Plymouth at an average speed of 23.51 knots per hour. The best previous record of the Kronprinz was 23.27 knots an hour. The Deutschland made the passage in 5 days, 11 hours and 5 minutes. The best previous record of the Kronprinz was 5 days, 12 hours and 47 minutes.

New York Is Smoking Up.

Looking from a mountain road 15 miles from New York city yesterday afternoon I was able to distinguish the skyscrapers along Broadway as easily as if I had been in the city. It was a very clear day, after the gale which had torn everything loose for a few hours, and the wind had lifted the curtain of smoke. It had carried the black cloud perhaps half a mile above the highest buildings and allow it to hang there for all the world like a heavy blanket. A month ago there would not have been any smoke in sight on a Sunday. If it had been a week day the position of the metropolis would have been discernible from a mountain 15 miles away only by the thick smoke that would have enveloped everything. New York under its black mantle reminded me of Pittsburgh on a clear day, the smoke standing well above the city just as it does over Pittsburgh, when one views it from Mt. Washington or any of the other heights across either of the rivers. There is no possibility of ignoring the fact that the use of soft coal here, as a consequence of the anthracite miners' strike in Pennsylvania, has made this city smokier than it ever was in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Lulu Glaser on Centennial Program.

A great many New Yorkers who could spare the time went up to West Point today to take part in the centennial celebration. Some of the New Yorkers were West Pointers themselves a generation or two ago, while others have sons or friends' sons there. West Point is so near to the city that there is a feeling that the proceedings are at our very doors. A lot of the boys will come down to New York to witness the performance of Lulu Glaser in "Dolly Varden" at the Herald Square theater, so that Pittsburgh may be said to be taking a personal part in the jollifications—at least, the theatrical part of it.

Mrs. Roosevelt Likes Shopping.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt will be in New York tomorrow for a day's shopping. Like all healthy minded American women she enjoys this occupation keenly. She is not content to sit in the hotel and have goods brought to her, either. She likes to plunge into the stores herself, to be elbowed by other shoppers, and shoved from pillar to post in the old familiar way. But she sees all there is to view, and is able to compare prices and qualities. What is there in shopping if one cannot do that? Mrs. Roosevelt, like her distinguished husband, is democratic and patriotic, and she likes to mix with other people on terms of equality when going about her daily vocations.

Sand Storm at Coney.

When the gale was at its height yesterday the thousands of visitors to Coney Island found it impossible to walk along the beach. The wind caught the sand and sent it flying along in clouds. It was a veritable simoon, except that the wind was cold instead of hot. It is seldom that the beach at Coney Island is rendered untenable by a windstorm or anything else. Even when the waves come up and wash away the loose buildings, such as bathhouses and photograph galleries, one can usually walk along the beach if one will go far enough away from the water's edge. Yesterday the sands were impossible anywhere, so long as the hurricane lasted.

Of Course, It Was an Accident.

I can hear the newsboys yelling all about Herald Square tonight that the New Yorks have laid out the Pittsburghs. Baseball, I mean, of course. There is a large colony of Pittsburghers uptown just now, and the comment on the reverse of today is: "Well, the Giants have to get a game once in a great while or no one would know they were trying to play ball at all." New Yorkers have been disgusted with their team for so long that they only sniff at an accidental victory like that at the Polo grounds this afternoon.

Van Wyck Doubts His Death.

There seems to be a common feeling among the Tammany district leaders that ex-Mayor Van Wyck is a "dead duck" in municipal politics. He was so badly beaten last fall in his candidacy for a supreme judgeship that even his friends ask what's the use of putting him on the ticket again? It is understood that he would like to try his luck again. He was reported last year as saying that he always got everything he wanted in a political way and it seems that he is not completely discouraged, if his friends are.

Must Eat if You Would Drink.

Again comes up that knotty question, "Is a sandwich a meal?" In the eyes of the excise law, Magistrate Cornell declared today that a "property sandwich" is not a meal and that it cannot be forced down a man's throat as a meal if he does not want it. That is to say, he must not buy a drink of whisky or a glass of beer and merely look at the sandwich; but, if he cannot eat the thing he has no right to the whisky or beer.

Kite Man Sees Volcano Dust.

According to William A. Eddy of Bayonne, N. J., the "kite man," the sky last evening, about sunset, for about five degrees above the horizon, was of a deep crimson tinge, which he thinks may be partly due to volcanic dust from the West Indies. The sun before reaching the horizon was surrounded by a yellow glow, fading to blue, and Mr. Eddy believes this was not volcanic dust effect and so did not use the chromoscope to test the color. After the disk of the sun had passed below the horizon Mr. Eddy hurried over to the boulevard bridge, overlooking Newark bay, with its distant horizon line, and found the clear sky to be colored a deep crimson, but very low in the horizon. Above the red gloom appeared prismatic effects, fading into the deep blue of the night sky. He says the soft coal smoke only produces a yellow tinge and does not affect the red tint, due to volcanic dust, which is far above the local haze, due to coal smoke. It may be that these phenomena are local to New York. But it would be interesting to know whether anything of the kind has been observed so far away from the seaboard as the great state of Allegheny, for instance.

Eyes Now on Harrisburg.

There is a great deal of interest here in the fight at Harrisburg over the gubernatorial nomination. It would surprise Pittsburghers who do not often come to New York to learn how closely Pennsylvania politics is followed here. Even the municipal affairs of Pittsburgh are familiar to thousands of New Yorkers who have never been west of the Allegheny mountains. Pennsylvania is a big state, and, in the eyes of the majority of New Yorkers, Pittsburgh is the biggest city in it.

Bat Masterson Loses His Iron.

Gambling is such a prominent industry in this city that the authorities could not find it in their consciences to punish "Bat" Masterson and other gamblers for the alleged running of a "brace" faro game. The offense could not be brought home to the prisoners, so, after being held in good stiff bail from last Friday they were discharged by a magistrate today. The only damage seems to be suffered by the distinguished "Bat," whose favorite "44" revolver was confiscated by the police.

Real Street Car Reform.

New rules have been issued to the conductors of cars on the Metropolitan Street Railway Company's system as a result of the complaints about the "step lively" of car employes and their way of standing on the back platform of open cars, where they cannot see the signs of passengers to stop the car. Henceforth conductors must wait for women to alight comfortably and at points in the shopping district, where many women leave and enter the car, the conductor must help them with their bundles and play the gallant cavalier generally. On open cars the conductor must stond on the running board, where he can see his passengers all the time. If he happens to get knocked off by passing trucks or other vehicles it will be deplorable, but unavoidable, of course.

Women's Golf Tournament Next.

Hereabouts women's golf will attract attention this week. The leading golf event will be the annual championship tournament of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association. This important contest will begin tomorrow morning on the links of the Essex County Country club at Orange, and will be continued through Saturday. Only one championship round will be played each day, but on three days there will be additional features for the afternoon play.

Shows Mighty Slaughter of Game.

The most interesting and imposing collection of caribou and moose antlers ever seen in New York city is on exhibition at "The Den" of William W. Hart, taxidermist, within a stone's throw of the Waldorf-Astoria. The collection is the result of several seasons' sport in New Brunswick, and consists of 112 caribou and 48 moose antlers, with skulls and scalps complete. The palmation of a majority of the horns is remarkable, while of spreads there are some notable ones. It is without question the most remarkable collection of game antlers yet seen in New York, and is attracting the attention of all lovers of big game hunting.

COMMENTS ON CANDIDATES.

It is because Senator Quay is desirous of party success along the whole line that he has declared in favor of the nomination of Judge Pennypacker. The latter's qualifications for the office are undisputed. His legal attainments, judicial experience, literary accomplishments, wide acquaintance with the people and history of the commonwealth, and his unspotted integrity, makes him a candidate of uncommon availability.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Citizens party in Allegheny county has paid Representative John Dalzell the exclusive compliment of a renomination, so that he alone of the regular candidates is likely to be without opposition from the citizens' movement. Mr. Dalzell has deserved this compliment as much by his freedom from contact with machine politics as by his abilities.—Philadelphia Record.

The announcement that United States Senator Quay is to be chairman of the Republican state committee in this year's gubernatorial campaign does not look much as if "the Old Man" was out of politics. It indicates that he is very much alive to the importance of this year's election in Pennsylvania.—Scranton Truth.

It is stated in the Pittsburgh papers that the delegates to the Republican convention from Venango county will support the candidacy of Mr. Elkin. If they do they will correctly represent the wishes of a very small percentage of their constituents. The majority of the Republican voters of Venango favor the Hon. J. C. Sibley for the nomination, but if he cannot be nominated they would prefer almost any other man to Mr. Elkin.—Oil City Blizzard.

The issue at Harrisburg is more than a choice of men. It turns on the question whether the Republican party shall be made to carry the burden of wrongs which have outraged the public sense. Mr. Elkin stands for the rule of which he has been a part; Judge Pennypacker and Col. Watres stand for a new departure. Both sides to the contest rest on the organization; it is a contest within the organization; but with this difference, that the Elkin movement has no argument and no appeal but the organization, while the movement against him pledges good administration in the antecedents and character of its candidate.—Philadelphia Press.

CLEVER TENNIS PLAY.

National Champion and Her Partner Were Defeated.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The national lawn tennis champion, Miss E. H. Moore, and her partner, Henry E. McGowan, were defeated today in three sets by Miss A. M. Risch and R. Leroy in the final match of the Kings county tennis clubs open tournament in Brooklyn. Miss Risch won almost unaided by her partner, who was crippled by a sprained ankle.

MAJ. OSBORN RETIRES.

For 47 Years on Staff of Associated Press in St. Louis—Connected With Pittsburgh Telegraph Office When Andrew Carnegie Was Messenger Boy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Mr. Charles J. Osborn, who has been correspondent of the Associated Press at the city of St. Louis since 1855, representing a term of 47 years of continuous service, will retire from the more severe labors of active service about July 1. The Associated Press, however, retains his advisory cooperation as part of the working force by an arrangement highly complimentary to Maj. Osborn.

Maj. Osborn began his newspaper career in 1847 on the Cincinnati Herald, of which Stanley Matthews, afterward supreme court justice, was then editor, and Salmon P. Chase, afterward chief justice of the United States supreme court, was one of the principal contributors. In 1848 he went to Pittsburgh at the instance of his former school fellow, Anson Stager, who was then manager of the Pittsburgh telegraph office, and who afterward became general superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company. He worked under Gen. Stager at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati and finally at St. Louis, where, in 1855, he took up his duties as agent of the New York Associated Press.

At that time the overland mail and later the "pony express" was the only means of communicating news across the plains to Visalia, a point in California 240 miles from San Francisco, to which the telegraph wire had been extended.

Maj. Osborn, therefore, has witnessed the development of the telegraph service of America and the marvelous advances which have been made in news-gathering during the half-century. During his stay at the city of Pittsburgh Andrew Carnegie was one of the messenger boys.

For more than 20 years he has been the dean of the Associated Press service, widely known, most highly respected, and personally known to the great body of Associated Press workers all over the world.

Just One Exception.

One swallow doesn't make a summer,
Nor one lone house a town,
But a word of cheer may make it clear
When the clouds have settled down.

One fountain doesn't make a river,
Nor do three and one make six,
But a girl may shake her curls and make
A dozen lunatics.

Lawrence Phipps' Noble Memorial.

From the Denver Times.

The sanatorium for consumptives, to be established in Denver by Lawrence C. Phipps, the Pittsburgh steel magnate, is a magnificent gift to afflicted humanity, whether it shall be accepted as a charity for the poor or as an opportunity for the rich. The institution is intended to be a memorial to Agnes Phipps, and the founder could not have selected a nobler form for the expression of his love and honor for his mother. The Phipps sanatorium is not to be a purely charitable institution, yet it will be open to those without means. All that money and scientific skill can accomplish will be offered to the afflicted, and patients will pay for their care in proportion to their ability. The institution will be a godsend to the rich as well as to the poor.

PERSONALS

A. McKinney, representative of the National Biscuit Company, passed through Pittsburgh last night to Chicago. During his ride on the limited from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh he had an exciting experience. At Harrisburg he was in a barber's chair in the Pullman buffet, and when engines were changed the train got a jolt which threw him out of the chair against a large mirror. At Union station last night Dr. William Hodkinson, one of the railroad's physicians, was waiting to attend to Mr. McKinney's injuries. The doctor was conducted to the car in which the supposed injured passenger was. Mr. McKinney had gone to bed and the Pullman porter refused to disturb him. The porter told the doctor that he could arouse him if he wanted to, and this the physician proceeded to do. The doctor rapped Mr. McKinney up and told him that the superintendent had sent him to attend his injuries. "Get out of here," roared an angry voice, "there is nothing the matter with me." The doctor at once got out.

Among the Pittsburgh delegates who left last evening for Louisville to attend the meeting of the National Association of Credit Men were W. A. Given, F. E. Preese, Cyrus Lewis, G. B. Hill, E. A. Grant, H. P. Howell and W. L. Dansbey. Tomorrow President Given of the Pittsburgh association will address the convention on "Results Accomplished in Western Pennsylvania by Credit Associations."

"No street railway building is going on in Chicago at present," remarked H. N. Sloan, general manager of the Calumet Street Railway Company, Chicago, at Union station last night. "Mayor Carter Harrison claims that the franchises of all the street railways in Chicago expire in 1903. I am afraid we are going to have trouble as Harrison has the presidential bee in his bonnet, and he is making a political play in this matter."

H. C. Perrot, formerly of Beaver Falls, now an Allegheny grocer, gave a farewell bachelor party to 25 of his friends in the house that will be his home—after his marriage—No. 1788 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, last night. P. C. Lynch was the toastmaster. Mr. Perrot is to be married on Wednesday night at Canton, O., to Miss Lottie Ibbotson.

J. B. Staadeker, a broker, of Louisville, Ky., passed through the city last night. "I have just returned from Louisiana after spending eight months there," he said, "and there is the promise of a big sugar and rice crop this year. The cotton is coming along nicely and the outlook for it is very promising."

One of the best dressed politicians who went to Harrisburg last night was Recorder J. O. Brown. He was attired in a long Prince Albert coat, and a handsome silk tile covered his head. What was in that head the political reporters would have given something nice to know.

Gen. John A. Wiley of Franklin and Capt. D. F. Wheelock of Warren were passengers to Harrisburg last night. "I am going down to see the fun," remarked Gen. Wiley, "and I expect it will be very lively."

Charles A. May, C. C. Engel, C. H. Young, H. E. Fisher, J. W. Manering and Charles H. Skirm of Trenton, N. J., water commission, are at the Hotel Henry. They will leave today for Chicago, where they will attend the meeting of the American Water Work's association.

Maj.-Gen. Charles Miller of Franklin, accompanied by J. J. McLaurin, went to Harrisburg last night. When asked as to what he thought would be the result of the convention, he said he was unable "to even guess it."

The members of the board of directors and heads of departments of the Ward-Mackey Company were given a dinner last night by the company at the Hotel Schenley. There were 13 guests and several informal speeches were made.

Allan M. Tod of Edinburgh, Scotland, is at the Hotel Lincoln. He is making a tour of the United States and visiting large manufacturing plants. His brother, F. J. Tod, and Robert M. Melvin have been in Pittsburgh for the past two weeks with friends in the East End.

John P. Boyle, one of the largest distillers of Baltimore, is at the Hotel Lincoln. He is here to attend the meeting of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, which meets at the Hotel Henry this morning.

Thomas J. Skillman, W. V. Betts, R. O. Hutigren, F. D. Neuman and Elmer Irwing of Altoona are at the Monongahela house. They are connected with the Pennsylvania railroad.

Edward Ortiz of the City of Mexico is at the Hotel Lincoln. Mr. Ortiz's father is the owner of one of the largest coffee plantations in Mexico.

Congressman John Dalzell went to Washington last night. He would not be interviewed on the political fight at Harrisburg.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John C. McCullough.

John C. McCullough, a former superintendent of the coach repair department of the Allegheny Valley railroad shops at Verona, died last evening at 5 o'clock at his home in Sharpsburg avenue, near Third street, Verona. Mr. McCullough was born in Scotland 68 years ago. He came to Pittsburgh 37 years ago and several years later he moved to Verona, where for over 25 years he was an employe of the railroad. He was one of the organizers of the Second United Presbyterian church of Verona, and was also a member of the Royal Arcanum. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, the Misses

HOW TO TRAVEL ON THE OCEAN AND IN EUROPE

Baggage Kept to Lowest Limit, While Clothes Should Be Comfortably Thick.

GIRL RAN PAPER ROUTE

Teacher Tourists Should Note Advice Given—No Space for Letters of Thanks, Which May Be Taken for Granted.

A good many people are going to Europe this summer who have never been abroad before, so a little advice will not be out of place. Above all things care should be taken to keep baggage down to the lowest possible limit. The maximum quantity allowed, aside from hand baggage, is 56 pounds. Anything above that must pay an excess rate and on some of the continental railways a charge is made for everything that goes into the baggage down to absolutely necessary apparel.

Ladies should take warm clothing, especially for the Atlantic voyage. Any old clothes will do, so long as they are easily put on and taken off. On the Continent, as a general principle, the fewer clothes taken the better. Two complete suits is the minimum that can be comfortably gotten along with, and undergarments in proportion. As tourists go to see rather than be seen, good, serviceable dress is to be preferred. For gentlemen a tweed sack suit, together with one cutaway coat and vest and trousers to correspond, is about the proper thing. A half dozen changes of underwear should be sufficient. They ought to carry a good supply of collars, cuffs and ties.

Cool Ocean Breezes.

Because the tourist is going to travel in midsummer it does not follow that it will always be warm. There are cool breezes on the sea at all times as on mountains. Chilly, damp weather may prevail anywhere for a few days at a time and it is better to suffer from a little too warm clothing than from that which is too thin in the other extremes. A medium suit and outer wrap prepare the traveler for varying conditions.

A mistake made by many novices is to load up with literature for a tour. Rarely does one do hard study on shipboard or railway train. All other time is occupied with sight-seeing. Most of the time on the ship goes in amusements, conversation, meditation and real health-giving idleness. A novel or two, of light character, will answer all literary needs, especially something that can be dropped on slight provocation when anything else is going forward.

Seasickness is the great bane of the ocean voyage. It is a mistake, however, for any one to make sure in advance that he is going to be a victim. On the boats of broad beam many travel without a qualm. At most they are not keen below decks more than a day or two. A simple diet for a few days before going on board and cheerful mind are among the best preventives. The malady is almost wholly nervous, controllable by will power, and often banished by having the thoughts busy about something else.

Suggestions to Teacher Tourists.

All of these hints are endorsed by travelers of experience. They apply with especial force to the public school teachers who are to make the grand tour as guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. It may be added for their information that excess baggage is always at the passenger's expense. Another item of information of interest to them and their friends is that mail intended for any members of the party should be addressed to the proper person "in care of Thos. Cook & Sons, Ludgate Circus, London." The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will provide postage so that all letters will be forwarded from that office, so as to reach the party in the shortest possible time. Thos. Cook & Sons will know at every moment where the party is and correspondents should add to the address "Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, Teachers' Party." The cable address of the Messrs. Cook is "Coupon, London."

Incidents and Itinerary.

One of the ladies who has been successful was once engaged in the newspaper business, though the fact is not generally known. When about 12 years of age she resided in one of the larger towns tributary to Pittsburgh, and as she "needed the money," secured a position with the local newsdealer as route girl and for some time served the people with The Commercial Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. The local agent at about this time had many complaints of unsatisfactory delivery from the various routes under his care and decided to offer a prize to the carrier of the route on which the least number of complaints were filed for one month. So attentive to her work was [illegible] that she easily won out and is today still in possession of the handsome set of historical books which were the prize.

Many of the successful teachers have requested that a letter be printed in the columns of the paper thanking their friends for their support during the contest. Space will not permit us to publish such requests, and we hardly think it necessary, as every person will know that the fortunate teachers are grateful to all who aided them, as are those who were less fortunate.

In this connection the itinerary of the teachers' tour is again of interest. It is as follows: Leave Pittsburgh on the evening of July 3; leave New York by Atlantic Transport line steamer on the morning of July 5; arrive London, Tuesday, July 15; carriage drives on two days; leave London by evening train via Harwich for Antwerp, July 19; arrive Antwerp in morning, July 20, and after a tour of city go to Brussels, a ride of 30 minutes; carriage drives in Brussels July 21; by morning train to The Hague, and then on to Amsterdam, July 22; in Amsterdam, July 23; travel to Cologne, July 24; by boat up the Rhine from Cologne to Mayence, July 25; proceed to Heidelberg, July 26; in Heidelberg, July 27; by rail to Lucerne, July 28; excursion by lake to the Rigi and ascent of the mountain, July 29; over the Alps to Interlaken, July 30; in and about Interlaken, July 31; by rail to Paris, August 1; in Paris Saturday, Sunday, Monday, August 1, 2 and 3, with carriage drives on two days; to London, August 5; by rail to Edinburgh, August 6; in Edinburgh, August 7, with carriage drive; travel to Glasgow, via Stirling, the Trossachs, Loch Katrine and Loch Lomond, August 8; leave Glasgow by Anchor line steamer Columbia, August 9; expect to arrive New York, August 17.

Steam Rises From Mt. Rainer.

TACOMA, WASH., June 9.—Two columns of steam are rising from the apex of Mount Rainier. The melting of the snow by the sun, the lifting and driving of the snow by the wind and other possible explanations are offered, but none seems to be satisfactory.

Society

A LARGE card party was given last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beeson, whose wedding took place in April at Indiana, Pa., the bride being Miss Helen White, daughter of Judge Harry White. The host and hostess last evening were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Rowe, who entertained at their handsome new house in Morewood avenue, Shadyside. The game was six-handed euchre and 12 card tables were provided. The guests were principally the young married people of Shadyside and the East End.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Beeson, received in the drawing-room, unassisted. The bride, who is quite well known in Pittsburgh through visits to school friends and relatives here, wore her wedding gown of heavy white silk, trimmed with duchess lace. The hostess was richly gowned and many other handsome costumes were seen. The house was simply decorated with palms and trailing vines and flowers in every apartment. Throughout the evening an orchestra, concealed by a high screen of vines and flowers, played an interesting program. Supper followed the conclusion of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Beeson returned several weeks ago from their wedding trip, and are now living in Howe street, East End.

The Street Fair.

The Missionary Garden party to be held on Thomas boulevard, between Fifth avenue and Linden, Point Breeze, on Thursday evening, is assuming the character of a very extensive street fair. The entertainment will be conducted under the auspices of the Willing Workers Mission Band of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, with Mrs. A. C. Hess, chairman. If rain interferes with the present arrangements, the fair will be held in the Point Breeze Presbyterian church.

Carnegie Monday Club.

Mrs. E. W. Powers was elected president of the Monday club of Carnegie yesterday at the last regular meeting of the season at the residence of Mrs. N. C. Deane, with Mrs. George Hosack as hostess. The following are the other officers: Mrs. George Faunce and Mrs. J. M. Duff, vice presidents; Mrs. J. L. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Edith Fourd, secretaries, and Mrs. William Hill, treasurer. The past year has been taken up by the club in the study of American history from the discoveries of the Northmen up to the framing of the United States constitution. The year has been the most successful in the history of the club and the expectations for next year are bright.

At the meeting yesterday were two honor guests, Mrs. Arthur McKee of Cleveland and Mrs. Edward Walters of Carnegie. After the business a social hour was spent and refreshments served. It was also decided to hold a special meeting next Monday afternoon at the home of the new president in Beechwood avenue.

The meeting will be in honor of Mrs. R. L. Walker and Mrs. William J. Glenn, who have been abroad.

The Southern Society of Pittsburgh.

Several months ago, in response to an advertisement in a daily paper, a number of gentlemen who were born in some one of the southern states, or had been citizens of the same, met at the Hotel Duquesne and formed the Southern Society of Pittsburgh, similar in its plans and objects to the Southern Society of New York city, to bring frequently together in a friendly and social way southerners. The society is a success and new members are being constantly admitted. A fine suite of rooms has been secured at No. 1809 Fifth avenue, near the new home of the Elks, and the June meeting will be held there Thursday evening of this week. The room will be open every Thursday evening for members, and southerners, even if not members, are welcome. Papers, magazines, etc., will be found on the tables. As there are upward of 1,000 persons about Pittsburgh who came here from the southern states the organization will doubtless soon want an entire building for headquarters.

Capt. Hobson Lectures Today.

The Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be the guests of Mrs. Halsey Williams this afternoon at her summer home, "Newington," Shields, Pa. The entertainment, which is the eleventh annual celebration of the founding of the chapter and also the observance of Flag day, will be interesting because of the address to be delivered at 4 o'clock by Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, U. S. N., whose subject will be "The Navy and the Nation." The hours of the reception will be from 3 o'clock until 6.

Trains will leave the Fort Wayne station, Allegheny, at 2, 2:50 and 3:40 o'clock p. m., city time, and returning will leave Shields at 4:40, 5:31 and 5:57 p. m., city time.

Pittsburghers Traveling.

Mrs. Arthur Kirk of Sharpsburg has gone to Fort Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y., for a two-weeks visit.

George Y. Simmel is spending two weeks in Columbus.

R. S. Scoville has gone to Norfolk, Conn., for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison and family of Braddock left yesterday morning for Spring Lake, N. J., where they will spend the summer.

H. P. Hoffstott and Miss Ada G. Hoffstott of Allegheny, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Hoffstott, sailed on Saturday for Europe.

Important Board Meeting.

The board of managers of the Public Bath and Wash House association will hold an important business meeting next Thursday morning at the Twentieth Century club, Duquesne way.

Notes of Society.

Miss Florence M. Barkley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barkley, of Clifton avenue, Allegheny, arrived home on Saturday from Vassar College, and will spend her summer vacation in Allegheny.

Dr. J. Leonard Levy, rabbi of the Eighth Street synagogue, lectured last evening in the Young Reader Jew Institute of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk, Ice and Coal Society. His subject was "Clerical Wit and Wisdom."

The Tonquin club has issued invitations for a dance to be given June 24 in the theater Annie Roberts. The committee of arrangements consists of Clifford M. Hartford, Harry C. Taylor, George Glassburn, L. A. Watson, J. C. Flaggwell, E. Barrington, George Mortith, Earle Brinker, E. A. Waugaman and Frank G. Conley.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Cora Mae Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Thompson, of Wheeling street, Washington, Pa., to James Noble Rule, vice president of the Washington and Jefferson academy. The wedding will take place on Tuesday evening, June 24, and the ceremony will be performed by the Rev. James H. Snowden, D. D., pastor of the church. Prof. Rule formerly lived in Oklahoma City.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Found some charming belt pins, round, with classic heads sharply embossed, at one of the department stores yesterday. These are approved belt fasteners just now, the plain buckle being strictly passe, except in the linen or canvas belts. The proper belt finish is a satin or velvet band, the former wide enough to crush, the latter narrow, pinned down to a sharp point in front, with one of these round pins. This gives the desired long waist effect and is far more elegant than the ordinary fitted belt.

For Shirt Waist Hats—

Spotted pongee silk divides honors with the loose meshed mallne and linen net. A hat whose brim rolls up at one side is lined with folds of the silk, and has a simply-folded scarf, through whose band a curving quill is thrust. With these hats no veil is worn unless it be one of the gauze veils fastened at the upper edge behind and left loose floating below.

Hand-Carved Shelves—

Either cut or burned into the preferred designs and then tinted in natural colors make charming gifts for man or maid in these days of artistic furnishing fads. One of the original book shelves, adorned with heads of mermaids tinted pale green on the brown wood is used by a pretty East End girl for the various creams and tonics whose use is necessary to her final beautifying. They harmonize with almost any article of furniture and are excellent for photographs, bric-a-brac or the books for which they were first intended.

To Preserve Snapshots—

Little books are made of ordinary dark colored paper, slightly heavier than that used in printing. These are mounted, as many as desired, and then inclosed between covers of chamois skin, on which a word, a sentence or a little scroll work is done with a hot needle, resembling pyrographic work. The whole is tied with thongs of chamois.

A Unique Bookmark—

Presented to a studious admirer by a Pittsburg woman is of white silk ribbon on which several poses of herself have been transferred photographically. The marker is simply a long piece of the ribbon and the heads are scattered without design over the surface. A sketchy pansy here and there suggests thoughts prettily without destroying the simplicity of the idea.

Shirt Waist Buttons—

Of turquoise colored enamel, having cameo cuttings of antique heads, are in favor for silk waists. They lend a richness unobtainable by any other adornment, and used on a white dress they give a distinctive touch of color which is exceedingly pretty and becoming to a blue-eyed wearer.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

S. T. Mee[illegible] writes: Will you kindly give directions for preparing buttered crumbs for scalloped dishes?

Buttered Crumbs.

To a cup of dry, sifted bread crumbs, free from crust, allow a fourth of a cup of butter. Melt the butter sufficiently to mix through and moister the crumbs.

Boiling Potatoes.

Miss K. A. E. asks whether potatoes should be boiled rapidly or slowly and also wants a recipe for deviled bread.

In the first place select potatoes of uniform size and not too large and be sure they are of the same variety. Have the water boiling, not boil rapidly or the outside will become soft and break off before the middle is cooked. If you are boiling large potatoes and find the outside is crumbling off before the centers are cooked add a pint of cold water and let them finish cooking.

Deviled Bread.

Cut bread into quarter inch slices; trim off the crusts and spread each slice with butter. Sprinkle each slice with a few drops of onion juice and cover with a slice of Parmesan cheese. Season this lightly with cayenne or paprica. Lay the slices, covered side up, on making tins and place in a hot oven and let remain two minutes to brown nicely.

A FOOD CURE FOR CONSTIPATION.
Constipation is an almost universal disease among civilized nations, due to concentrated and imperfectly cooked food. Mushes, milk, fine flour, bread and condiments added to sedentary habits, result in constipation, hemmorhoids, piles and other diseases of the rectum requiring surgical operation, intestinal catarrh, headache, bilious attacks, nervous exhaustion, insomnia, sleeplessness, auto-intoxication and paralysis. The remedy is the daily use of Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey. Each flake represents an entire wheat kernel, even the woody fiber, and contains all the life-building gluten of the wheat. The raw starch found in wheat and cracked wheat mushes is dextrinized by thorough cooking and toasting, making Toasted Wheat Flakes at once digestible and curing constipation and its attendant ills. It is unfailing in its work.

NURSE GARRETT TESTIFIES AS TO BROWNING'S BILL

TOLD OF INVESTMENTS

Said She Heard the Senator Speak of Having to Add $25,000 to Dr. Browning's Account—Other Nurse Strengthened the Physician's Case.

The features of yesterday's testimony during the hearing upon thee audit of the estate of the late C. L. Magee were the presentation of the itemized monthly bills of Dr. Walter C. Browning aggregating $194,080, and the testimony relative to the stock deals said to have been conducted by Mr. Magee for the doctor.

The court mentioned during the hearing that the testimony as to the stock accounts was not very definite. When the executors were called upon to exhibit the investment accounts possessed by the estate, it was stated that there were no accounts upon which the name of Dr. Browning appears.

Attorney W. B. Rodgers, for Dr. Browning, called George H. Anderson, who testified that a member of his family had been successfully treated by the doctor and that his rates were $30 an hour for examination and $20 an hour for treatment. Mr. Anderson said that he and his daughter had met Mr. Magee at Dr. Browning's office.

Clerk of Courts George W. Miller was recalled. He told of Mr. Magee calling in another physician at Harrisburg for consultation with Dr. Browning, which only resulted in the strengthening of Mr. Magee's faith in his doctor.

Itemized Bill by Months.

Attorney W. B. Rodgers offered in evidence the correspondence between Dr. Browning and the executors of the estate, and a letter dated April 16, 1901, which was accompanied by the doctor's bill. The letter was ruled out, but the bill was allowed. It was made out upon a regular bill head, and sets forth that the estate of Mr. Magee is indebted to the doctor $194,080 "for professional services." The bill is as follows:

1899, July	1,610
1899, August	1,260
1899, September	750
1899, October	1,240
1899, November	10,080
1899, December	11,340
1900, January	7,320
1900, February	10,080
1900, March	12,000
1900, April	12,000
1900, May	12,920
1900, June	11,300
1900, July 1	4,070
1900, July	14,940
1900, August	17,120
1900, September	12,000
1900, October	12,960
1900, November	17,080
1900, December	13,560
1901, January	8,480
1901, February	4,560
1901, March	6,320
Total	$194,080

The next witness called was Miss Annie Garrett. She was employed by Dr. Browning as a nurse and possessed a general knowledge of the doctor's business, having also acted as his clerk. She testified that Mr. Magee visited Dr. Browning upon June 14, 1899, accompanied by Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst.

Nurse's Strong Testimony.

She said that after Mr. Magee had been examined by Dr. Browning the former asked the physician his rates, and the latter said $30 an hour for examinations and $20 an hour for treatment. The witness said Mr. Magee said that was all right, as he had understood they were his regular charges. She said Mr. Magee noticed that the cards called for cash payment, when he said he would rather pay monthly, giving John B. Elkins, P. B. A. Widener and C. H. McVay as references. Dr. Browning said there was no need of references, and an account was opened, the witness said. She also said the accounts were kept on cards; that outside rates were $40 an hour, and that bills were sent to Mr. Magee monthly.

The witness said that she was present when Mr. Magee received the first bill. She declared he said that as the doctor had done him so much good he did not think the bill adequate. Miss Garrett told of Mr. Magee asking the doctor to give up his night practice, saying he would pay him $80 an hour if he would do so. She declared Mr. Magee would change Dr. Browning's bills by doubling them.

Gave Up Night Practice.

The witness declared the doctor finally gave up his night practice and Mr. Magee was to pay him $80 an hour for eight hours' attention each night. Miss Garrett said it gave Mr. Magee a great deal of pleasure to charge the bills, and that in August, 1899, Mr. Magee told Dr. Browning that he had decided to reward him and would open an investmine account for the doctor with $100,000. The witness told of Mr. Magee being accompanied by Dr. Browning to Hot Springs, Va. The doctor's fee was to be $100 a day, and a bill for $1,400 was rendered for services during the trip.

Miss Garrett said she had heard Mr. Magee speak of his successful investments, and that Mr. Elkins and Mr. Widener "always won" and "always made money." She said that Mr. Magee often joked over a comparison he made of a bill for $50 another physician had charged him for a superficial examination of a few minutes and two hours of Dr. Browning at the same figures.

The account cards were identified by the witness. Judge J. W. Over withheld his decision as to whether they are admissible.

Monthly Bills Not Paid.

Upon cross-examination Miss Garrett said that she did not know when the profits of the investment account were to be turned over to Dr. Browning by Mr. Magee, as nothing was said about it. She continued to send in bills the first of every month and they were not paid. This was done, she said, so Mr. Magee would know what the amounts were. The trip to Hot Springs was made at the suggestion of the doctor. Mr. Magee paid the expenses and the witness acknowledged that Dr. Browning charged $100 a day for this 14 days' trip. Attorney G. C. Wilson attempted to show by the witness that Dr. Browning did not devote his entire attention to Mr. Magee upon the occasion of the Atlantic City trip, but that he went back and forth to Philadelphia.

It was shown that the doctor made two weekly visits to Philadelphia and that he and Mr. Magee did not stop at the same hotel in Atlantic City.

Upon re-direct examination Miss Garrett said that Mr. Magee expressed himself as being very greatful to Dr. Browning. She named a number of patients treated by the doctor at the recommendation of Mr. Magee, among them the latter's two nephews, whose accounts were charged to Mr. Magee.

Upon re-cross-examination the witness said the books showing the appointments Mr. Magee had with the doctor were destroyed.

Dr. E. F. Kamerly of Philadelphia, who declared he had "a general education in medicines," said he was an intimate acquaintance of Dr. Browning's, such acquaintance having originated from having been treated by the doctor. He reiterated what other patients of the doctor testified to relative to rates. He considered Dr. Browning a very busy man and he had found he was not able to make an appointment with him inside of a week. Aside from himself, the witness knew Dr. Browning to have treated two other Philadelphia physicians. He said that he doubted Dr. Browning's efficiency until he had personal experience with his treatment, which treatment is one original with him.

Mr. Wilson brought out the fact that the witness is still a patient of Dr. Browning and that Dr. Kamerly is an eye specialist; also that the witness had no personal knowledge of Dr. Browning until four years ago.

At this point Mr. Rodgers asked that the court direct the executors of the estate to produce all of the investment accounts. Mr. Wilson said that the accounts mentioned by the witnesses were the only ones applicable to the case. Judge Over said there was no reason why all of the accounts should be produced, when Mr. Rodgers said that the name of Dr. Browning may not appear on all of the accounts, and for that reason he desired all of them.

Asked for Investment Accounts.

Mr. Wilson said the executors had no papers or accounts with Dr. Browning, or any person connected with the case, in their possession. The court said the evidence relative to the dates of the accounts was not very definite. Mr. Wilson agreed then to furnish what investment accounts the executors had bearing dates after the agreement spoken of.

Charles Wolf, a nurse, of Philadelphia, was called. He nursed Mr. Magee at times, and spoke of the faith that Mr. Magee had in Dr. Browning. At times, the witness said, Mr. Magee had 50 callers a day and during the convention in Philadelphia in June, 1900, the number of his visitors increased. The nurse said the treatment of Dr. Browning was very offensive work. The witness swore that Mr. Magee upon one occasion said that Dr. Browning saved his life.

Nurse Wolf gave the particulars of the payment of $1,000 by check to Dr. Browning by Mr. Magee for medicines and surgical instruments. It was testified that the bill was not quite $1,000, and that upon receiving the receipt Mr. Magee tore it up.

Nurse Denied Being Discharged.

The witness heard the investment account spoken of and knew Mr. Magee to change the doctor's bills to increase them.

The witness once heard Mr. Magee say that there was $25,000 more to be added to the investment account. This account, the witness said, was a large sheet of paper, which was kept in an envelope. The sheet, the witness said, was headed "the $150,000 account with Dr. Browning."

Upon cross-examination Wolf said he was employed at the suggestion of Dr. Browning; that the members of Dr. Browning's family accompanied Mr. Magee and the doctor upon one of the trips out of Philadelphia, and that he was not discharged by Mr. Magee. The witness further denied that he was discharged by Mr. Magee because he took money out of the latter's pockets. At this point court adjourned.

SAY CASE IS HELPLESS.

Physicians Claim Albert Pitcairn Is in an Advanced Stage of Paresis.

In the hearing of the traverse of the lunacy proceedings against Albert Pitcairn, now in Dixmont, Dr. William G. Walker swore his patient is now in an advanced stage of paresis. "Pitc is shown by his actions, such as destroying things, pulling out his hair and possessing an inclination to do himself bodily harm. This condition exhibited itself in a very marked manner when Mr. Pitcairn was admitted to the institution, the witness said, but there was a partial improvement for a time. A change has now taken place and his case is hopeless.

Dr. T. W. C. McKennan gave similar testimony. From Mr. Pitcairn's condition he judged he had been suffering from paresis as early as 1892. The witness declared that sometimes there is a case where a patient partially recovers, but he never knew of a case like Mr. Pitcairn's where a patient became entirely sound. Other physicians testified along this line.

FIREWORKS WILL BE A GORGEOUS FEATURE

Fine Portraits of Notables to Be Shown—Everybody Helping Along the Celebration.

Contracts for the fireworks for Greater Pittsburgh's Fourth of July celebration at Schenley park were awarded by John B. Barbour, Jr., chairman of the fireworks committee yesterday. Among the interesting set pieces planned are portraits of President Roosevelt, George Washington and Mrs. Mary E. Schenley. The display will be by far the greatest that Pittsburgh has ever witnessed.

Work on the big speakers' stand will be commenced at once, for Chairman D. L. Gillespie of the committee having that detail in charge says it will take the contractors all the intervening time to get the stand ready.

A notable feature in connection with the raising of funds for the celebration is the general character of the contributions. Heretofore the larger part of the fund for the Fourth has been given by large manufacturing concerns and business houses. This time the people are displaying their patriotic spirit. Hundreds of men in all stations in life have contributed and quite a number of women have also come to the front with subscriptions.

Yesterday's additions to the fund were as follows:

Knapp Bros.	$ 10 00

SELECT COUNCIL TRIFLES WITH PUBLIC HEALTH

Delay in Providing Funds for Disinfecting in Contagious Diseases.

THE NEED IS IMPERATIVE

Under the guidance of President John S. Lambie, select council did nothing at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon but obstruct public business and incidentally postpone for two weeks longer measures that were being taken to rid the city of contagious and infectious diseases. After being reported out of the rump committee on finance, the ordinance which transfers $7,500 from the contingent fund to the health fund, to be used in disinfecting buildings that have housed contagious or infectious diseases, was sent to the joint committee on finance, and the city government must wait two weeks longer to make any attempt to break the wave of disease that is devastatating Pittsburgh.

President Lambie, aided by the ring majority in select, proved that the rump committees have no legal standing and are only there to enable the ring to obstruct business. Several of the rump committees reported on measures which they had considered. These measures were instantly and without action referred to the joint committees. These latter committees must pass them before select council acts upon them. It now takes from two to three months to get a measure through councils. Matters which had been passed by common council early in April came up in the select branch yesterday for final action. The first measure that was introduced in selec council after its organization, April 7, was passed by that branch yesterday, two and a half months since it was introduced.

Under the old system, measures of great importance could get through both branches of council in two weeks. The rump committees of select council, however, occupy an extra month.

To Limit Speed of Autos.

After getting his instructions from John Upperman President Lambie took the chair. The only measure of importance on the call of the wards was an ordinance by W. J. Zahniser limiting the speed of automobiles to six miles an hour in the down town district, at street intersections, and in streets bearing street car tracks, and to 10 miles an hour in other parts of the city. A fine of not less than $25 or more than $100 is imposed as a penalty. This ordinance was prepared by Director Leslie of the department of public safety. It was referred to the rump committee on public safety. It will be between two and three months before it can be taken up and passed. If councils should follow the usual rule and adjourn after the last meeting of this month until the second week of September, it will be six months before it gets out.

When the call for standing committee reports came, Chairman Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the rump committee on finance, reported affirmatively the ordinance providing rules for the sinking fund commission, and it was passed finally, both branches now having acted upon it. The rump committee delayed this ordinance six weeks. The sinking fund commission could not act until this ordinance was passed, and lost two opportunities for investing money from the sinking fund that would have netted the city nearly $5,000 a year income.

One Ordinance Finally Escaped.

The ordinance for the printing of the annual report of the city controller, was reported and passed finally. Other papers presented and referred to select council committees were ordinances opening Princeton place, from Station street to Broad street; grading, paving and curbing of the same, and of Frankstown avenue from Oakmont street to the city line.

A resolution authorizing the recorder to sign a petition for the paving of Woolslayer alley, from Thirty-eighth to Thirty-ninth streets, was passed under a suspension of rules.

Concerning the ordinance affording funds to fight disease, which was held up in the rump finance committee for two weeks, Dr. W. D. O'Brien, chairman of the joint committee on health and sanitation, says that the delay may prove serious. "This delay is a menace to public health," said Dr. O'Brien yesterday. "The health bureau should have funds at once to fight disease. The disinfecting of houses which have held cases of infectious disease, is necessary and very important. Diphtheria, scarlet fever and kindred diseases are on the increase, and this delay is much to be regretted."

Obstructed by Machine Men.

Machine men in common council succeeded last night in obstructing the passage of five ordinances which were prepared to put into effect the recommendations made by Controller John D. Larkin in his revenue message to councils. The machine men succeeded in defeating the motion to suspend the rules, but were only successful because of the absence of a number of reform members.

The ordinances were reported affirmatively by the finance committee last night, and were as follows: Providing for a license tax of $75 a year for switch tracks, turnouts, etc.; providing for the appointment by the controller of four revenue officers at a salary of $85 a month to collect city revenue, and which the city ordinance officers fail to collect; providing for the appointment of a dockmaster at $75 a month, and for the payment of the fees from the Flinn dock directly into the city treasury; providing for the appointment of a city gauger at a salary of $1,500 per annum, and of a deputy gauger at $1,000 per annum, and the payment of the fees directly into the city treasury; providing for the weighing of coal on scales whose correctness are attested by the city, and the fees for such weighing.

When Chairman W. M. Stevenson of the finance committee reported these ordinances, he moved the suspension of the rules, but the motion failed by a vote of 30 to 11, 33 votes being required to suspend the rules.

From the corporations committee came an ordinance granting the Pennsylvania railroad the right to extend its tracks on Liberty street from Eleventh to Twelfth street. Upon motion of Christ F. Beckert, Jr., this ordinance was passed.

Franchises Were Referred.

From this committee also came ordinances granting franchises to the City Electric Company, the Pittsburgh Time and Signal Company, the Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power Company, and the Co-operative Light, Heat and Power Company. These ordinances were all affirmatively recommended by the corporations committee, and were referred to the special committee appointed to investigate the relations between the city and the corporations that operate under city franchises. These companies all offer the city 3 per cent of the gross receipts as compensation with the exception of the City Electric Company, which agrees only to be bound by the provisions of a general tax ordinance to be passed later.

On the call of the wards in common council the following papers were introduced: Resolution for a warrant for $81 for W. A. Conklin, D. V. S., the New York veterinary surgeon who attended Lucy Juba-Nile, the hippopotamus at Highland zoo, which finally died; resolution for the transfer of $9,500 to pay for the repaving of Station avenue, and a number of street ordinances.

The reform members of common council drew a parallel between their conduct and that of the ring majority in select council by coming at once to the rescue of the smallpox fighters by passing the ordinance which provides for the transfer of $10,000 from the contingent fund to the health fund to erect a temporary addition to the municipal hospital. It was introduced last Thursday evening, the finance committee called a special meeting to consider it, and it was passed last night. It required three days. Select council has held up the disinfecting fund ordinance for two weeks, and it will be two weeks more before they pass it.

The ordinances providing for the erection in Schenley park of workshops, stables, etc., at a cost of $50,000, and for the erection of a music pavilion in Highland park at a cost of $10,000 were brough up, and upon motion of W. C. Reitz, indefinitely postponed. This kills them.

From the committee on public works came a number of ordinances with an affirmative recommendation, which were passed.

Special Committee Named.

President Charles S. Crawford of common council last night appointed the special committee which was authorized at the special meeting on Thursday night: W. H. Stevenson, chairman, Fourteenth ward; Christ F. Beckert, Jr., Fourteenth ward; Jacob Schuck, Thirty-first ward. This committee was appointed under the authority of a resolution which directs them to ascertain the number of employes in the various branches of the city government, their salaries, and to prepare an ordinance revising salaries. The committee will meet at once for organization.

Chairman W. C. Reitz of the committee appointed to investigate the relation between the city and corporations operating under city franchises, and to ascertain whether the city has the power to tax them, said last night that his committee would have a meeting this week for organization, and that it would go to work at once.

FINE MUSIC HAS BEEN BOOKED FOR THE EXPO

Plans are already under way looking to the opening of the exposition in September, and if the efforts of Manager F. J. Fitzpatrick count, it will far surpass all former efforts. Contracts for music have been closed with three of the foremost musical organizations of the country, and in this particular at least, this year's exposition will excel all others. Many novelties will also be shown, including a miniature reproduction of the Martinique disaster, with Mont Pelee throwing out red-hot ashes and lava flowing down the mountain side on the doomed city. The exposition will open on September 3, and will continue for the regular 40 days, closing on October 18.

Sousa and his famous band will be at the opening and furnish music during the first two weeks. He will be succeeded by Fadette's Woman's orchestra of Boston, composed of 50 women, several of them soloists of prominence. Among the latter is Mrs. Wilczek, violin soloist, formerly of this city. The organization is under the direction of Catherine B. Nichols, one of Boston's foremost musical directors.

Damrosch's orchestra will furnish the music during the two weeks preceding the closing night. Arrangements are under way and a contract will likely be entered into with another famous band to play during the other two weeks of the session.

The Pittsburgh Steel Company will exhibit machines for making wire nails and wire fences. The great industrial exhibit of the American Steel and Wire Company, which was one of the principal displays at the Paris exposition, will also be shown. Several other large industrial exhibits will be in Machinery hall, including the electrical exhibit of the Westinghouse Company. The Southern railway will again have a complete display of southern products and minerals. Cotton growing and tea growing in the southern states will be shown in a practical manner.

It is the intention of the exposition managers to lay out the grounds at the southern end of the buildings as a park.

And Now May Hall Has Resigned as Directress of Nurses.

LIVELY HOSPITAL EPISODE

Miss May E. Hall, who has been directress of nurses at the South Side hospital for six months, has resigned on account of alleged friction with A. D. Lloyd, superintendent of the institution. The board of directors will meet tonight to consider the resignation, and it is said that its acceptance is a certainty.

Miss Hall has been connected with the South Side hospital for three years. She entered the institution in 1899, when she started in the nurses' training school. She graduated as a nurse in June, 1901, and was offered and accepted the position of directress of nurses about the first of the year, after Miss Minnie Duck from the Kings County hospital, Brooklyn, who had filled the place for four months, resigned.

Clashed Months Ago.

Miss Hall was in the position of directress when Superintendent Lloyd assumed the management of the hospital, about four months ago. Miss Hall is said to have disagreed with Mr. Lloyd with respect to many of his methods and this was the beginning of an unpleasant feeling between the two. Mr. Lloyd, on his side, is said to have found Miss Hall not the staid disciplinarian that he desires to have at the head of the institution's nurses. During the last two months the breach between the superintendent and directress is said to have grown wider, until Miss Hall handed in her resignation.

The matter that made the resignation necessary was Miss Hall's refusal to submit to a gentle rebuke for several "tricks" played at the hospital recently.

Interne Invited to a Party.

Last Wednesday evening, after visiting hours, a woman who was a private room patient invited Miss Hall and some of the nurses to her room to help dispose of some ice cream her husband had sent. The woman had recovered from her illness and was to leave the hospital the next day. After the little party had gathered, Miss Hall summoned Dr. A. A. Parks, one of the internes, to the spread. Dr. Parks accepted the invitation and while he was being entertained Miss Hall left the room for a short time. When Dr. Parks went to his room to retire he found his bed had been filled with salt and tacks. This made him angry. He gathered up the bed clothes, salt and tacks and going to the third floor dumped them at the door of Miss Hall's room. It is alleged that while the bed clothes were on the floor they were partially destroyed.

Noise Disturbed Patients.

Between the party in the patient's room and Dr. Parks' trip to the third floor there was so much noise and confusion created that the patients on the third floor complained to Superintendent Lloyd the next day and the nurses and doctor were brought up to give an account of the manner in which they had spent the night.

It was at this hearing, it is said, that Miss Hall refused to be called to account for her actions. This, it is said, vexed Superintendent Lloyd, and he determined to take measures to effectually break up the practice of "fixing" beds of physicians or male employes of the institution by the nurses, and other tricks.

Superintendent Lloyd and Miss Hall are reported to have had another very unpleasant encounter last Saturday morning. They met in the surgical department and according to Miss Hall's story the superintendent persisted on handling some sterilized catgut, used for stitching purposes, against her wishes and protests. A heated discussion is said to have taken place between the superintendent and the directress of nurses with the result that Miss Hall threatened resignation.

PRINCETON COLLEGE HAS NEW PRESIDENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., June 9.—The chief event in connection with Princeton's 155th annual commencement, as it was the great surprise, came today in the annual meeting of the board of trustees, when President Francis L. Patton resigned the presidency and Prof. Woodrow Wilson, professor of jurisprudence and politics, was elected to succeed him. There was a full attendance of the trustees and after the meeting had been called to order President Patton handed in his resignation and at the same time suggested that Prof. Wilson be elected to succeed him. A prominent member of the board of trustees said that President Patton so strongly urged his own resignation that the board could not do otherwise than accept it. The election of Woodrow Wilson was unanimous on the first ballot. President Patton made the following statement:

"I have resigned my office as president of the university because I desire to carry on my literary plans on a larger scale than I could do by retaining the presidency. This is really all there is to say. I trust the students will be as loyal to my successor, President Wilson, as they have been to me.

"I shall retain my professorship in the university, in the chair of ethics and the philosophy of religion. I have been president of the university for 14 years."

The year's graduating class is the largest in the history of Princeton. It numbers 258 members, 178 academic, 68 scientific, nine engineering and three special.

GETS CLULEY'S POSITION.

L. L. Dilworth Appointed Chief Clerk by Director McCandless.

L. L. Dilworth of the Nineteenth ward was yesterday appointed chief clerk of the department of public works by Director J. Guy McCandless, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert E. Cluley, who becomes cashier of the Pittsburgh postoffice. Dilworth is the present chief clerk of the bureau of viewers, which position he has held for four years, with the exception of two months during the incumbency of City Recorder A. M. Brown. The position carries with it a salary of $200 a month, and the appointment takes effect next Monday. Ex-Controller Joseph E. Lewis made a strong contest for the place.

The appointment creates a vacancy in the chief clerkship of the bureau of viewers, with a salary of $100 a month, and will likely go to Joseph Woods of the Thirty-second ward, who is at present a clerk in the general office of the public works department.

WILL ABANDON THE CATHEDRAL IN MAY

ST. PAUL'S CONGREGATION WILL THEN MOVE TO NEW CHURCH.

Corner Stone of the Church of the Epiphany Is to Be Laid by Bishop Phelan on the Last Sunday in This Month.

The corner stone of the new Catholic Church of the Epiphany, being erected in Washington street for the parishioners of the cathedral parish, will be laid the last Sunday of this month. No elaborate ceremonies will mark the occasion. The Rev. Father J. F. Regis Canevin, rector of the cathedral, will be rector of Epiphany church pending the erection of the new cathedral.

The corner stone will likely be laid in the afternoon, the Rt. Rev. Bishop R. Phelan and his assistants will proceed to the Washington street site and place the stone, after which the bishop will be escorted to the cathedral residence. There will be no address and no ceremony other than that required by the Roman ritual.

Another important announcement made yesterday by Father Canevin was that the old St. Paul's cathedral would be abandoned on May 30 next. H. C. Frick has been notified of this and has agreed to the arrangements. It was thought at first that the Church of the Epiphany could be opened for divine service by the first of next year, but unavoidable delays during the winter season have put the work back.

The foundation of the new church is almost finished. According to present plans it is not possible for the cathedral parish to occupy the new edifice before March 1, although were there any particular necessity the basement could be used for services. Mr. Frick, however, is not pushing the cathedral people, and is rather inclined to allow them to remain a month or more over the time agreed rather than cause any inconvenience.

A later study of the plans of the new church shows that the present main altar in the cathedral cannot be used, as it is too long for the dimensions of the Epiphany sanctuary. The side altars and other equipments of the cathedral, however, can be used to good effect.

When the ladies of the cathedral parish heard of the dilemma regarding the main altar they came forward and offered to erect a magnificent marble altar in the new church. The proposition has been accepted, and the women are now leaving no stone unturned to raise funds. The new altar is to be erected at a cost of $10,000 and will be of Italian marble, the design to conform with the style of architecture after which the new church is modeled.

The altar will be the gift of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent association, the Regis Reading Circle and several sodalities connected with the cathedral parish. The Chicago firm, which will in all probability be awarded the erection of the new cathedral, is expected to send on its final drawings this month.

DISCUSSED BURNETT'S SPEECH.

United Presbyterian Ministers Considered Political Act of One of Them.

The ministerial association meetings held yesterday were all interesting. There was quite a discussion among the United Presbyterians anent the speech made by the Rev. John A. Burnett nominating Col. W. E. Thompson for county controller before Republican convention No. 4 at the Alvin theater, but it was finally agreed that Mr. Burnett's part was not improper. Mr. Burnett is pastor of the Second church of Wilkinsburg, and also chaplain of Col. Thompson's regiment.

In the matter of a call to the Rev. W. L. Wilson of the Tenth church, Allegheny, by the Carnegie church, the Monongahela presbytery decided to dismiss him.

The Rev. C. E. Hills of Emsworth read a paper before the Presbyterian ministers on "The Influence of the English Bible on English Prose Style."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 9.—Sparks, the old Pirate pitcher, and Jesse Tannehill had it out today before a large Monday crowd at the Polo grounds. Both were hit for the same number of base hits, but the Giants' pitcher managed to keep his well scattered, while the home team succeeded in bunching theirs during the second and third innings. With a couple of errors by the Pittsburghs, they managed to pile up five runs, sufficient to win the game. After that Tannehill settled down, but it was too late.

It looked in the ninth inning as though the Pirates would make it an extra inning game. They opened up in their half of this inning on Sparks, hammering in two runs, but there they stopped. The game was dull and listless all the way through. Sparks had a shade the best of it when men were on the bases.

Clarke Started Off All Right.

Capt. Clarke opened the first inning by hitting the ball over Dunn's head for three bases. Beaumont hit a hot one to short, reaching first. The best Wagner could do was to sacrifice and died at first, Clarke scoring on the play. Bransfield worked Sparks for a free pass. Ritchey hit a high one to Brodie. Beaumont made a dash for third, but was caught there by Lauder on a close decision.

From this up to the ninth inning the Pirates were unable to get a man over the rubber, try as they would. In the ninth inning Tannehill, the first man up for the Pirates, smashed a nice single to the outfield. Conroy hit another safe one and on Jones' error Tannehill romped home, the batter getting to second. Clarke had three balls to his credit, but could not connect and struck out. Beaumont was more successful than his captain, for he smashed a pretty single, scoring Conroy. Everybody expected Wagner to keep on with the good work, but his best effort was a high fly to Jones, who grabbed the ball after a hard run. Bransfield, the next batter up, was not equal to the occasion and fanned, ending the game.

For the Giants in the second, Doyle and Lauder both hit safe. Jones knocked an easy one to Ritchey, which he fumbled, filling the corners, with none out. Smith had a chance on Dunn's high foul, which he missed. On the next ball pitched he hammered a hit to left field, scoring both Doyle and Lauder. Bowerman's best effort was a high one which Kitty Bransfield took care of. Sparks, the next batter, gave Bransfield another chance on the same kind of play, ending their run-getting for this inning.

Where the Giants Got the Game.

The third inning was the last of the scoring for the Giants. Bean beat out a neatly placed bunt. Smith's hit was too hot for Tannehill to handle, it nearly taking him off his feet. Doyle sacrificed. Lauder, the next batter up, hit a liner to left field for two bases, sending in Bean and Smith. Jones kept up the batting for his team by slamming a single to right, scoring Lauder. Jones going down to second on the throw to plate. Wagner and Tannehill disposed of the next two batters up in quick succession, but it was too late, as the Giants had already tallied five runs.

Many New Yorkers will journey to Brooklyn tomorrow, where the Pittsburgh team will meet Hanlon's men in a series of three games, and they will probably be the most exciting played around New York this season, as the Hanlonites are playing fast ball just at present. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Big Lajoie ain't doing a thing but driving boards off the Cleveland fence by banging the ball against them these days. It was Larry's stick work that brought Cleveland a victory yesterday.

Yesterday was the second time this season that the Giants trimmed Tannehill. Jesse seems to bunch his tough luck when he strikes Freedman's team. Bunched hits was what turned the trick yesterday.

The Pirates' hefty hitters, Wagner and Bransfield, failed to do anything in the batting line yesterday. It's not often that pair goes through a game without a hit, but Sparks seemed to have taken their measure yesterday.

Horace Fogel, who was here on Saturday, was en route to Cleveland to try and secure Lajoie and Elmer Flick for the Giants. It is to be hoped that Fogel's mission proves successful, because a strong batting team in New York means much for baseball.

It was an ex-Pirate that sent the champions down to defeat yesterday. Frank Sparks was the boy who turned the trick, and there are lots of Pittsburghers who will be glad of it, because Frank was very popular while he was with the Pittsburgh team, and there were many regrets when he was let out at the time of the consolidation of the Pittsburgh and Louisville clubs.

The champions tried hard to make another of those Garrison finishes and win the game in the ninth inning. They got two runs over the pan, but could go no further. One good thing about it is that it shows Clarke's boys are not quitters and will fight it out right down to the last inch. Another inning victory has the team pulled off this season, and that's playing the game to the limit—a thing the people like to see.

Lefty Davis must have been sick yesterday, as he was missing from his place in right field, and Wid Conroy acted as his sub. Conroy was placed last on the batting list, but he fooled his manager by making two hits and scoring a run. If Wid would only learn to stop hitting up at the ball he would be a better batter. As it is he lands on the ball hard enough, but draws it up into the air so that fielders can get under it.

For the next three days the Pirates will be over in Brooklyn, and some red-hot arguments are assured. The Brooklyn team has been playing great ball lately, winning ten out of the last eleven games, taking three straight from Chicago. Hanlon has a trio of fine pitchers in Kitson, Newton and Donovan, and they are in fine fettle at the present time. The champions will be mighty lucky if they get two games out of the series.

COULDN'T STOP THEM.

Chicago Changed Batteries, but Brooklyn Got the Game.

BROOKLYN, June 9.—The Brooklyn-Chicago series of four games was concluded today by another victory for the home team, the score being 6 to 5 against Chicago. When the Brooklyns tied the score in the latter half of the ninth inning Menefee and Chance gave way to St. Vrain and Kling to offset the probability of Brooklyn making another run, but the change was ineffective and the winning run was scored off the second ball St. Vrain pitched. INDIANS WOULDN'T PLAY.

Kicked Against a Decision of the Umpire and Left the Playing Field.

WAYNESBURG, PA., June 9.—(Special.)—Waynesburg college and the Carlisle Indians started to play ball here today and for six innings both teams put up as nice an article as has been seen this year. At the beginning of the seventh inning, Peiper, of Waynesburg, was the first man up, making a hit on which he made first. Ingham followed suit, sending Peiper to third. Phillips struck out. Ingham stealing second; Cowen came to bat, hitting to short center; Peiper crossed the plate, tieing the score. Ingham went to third, Tatiopa received the ball and touched the runner. Moredock, the umpire, called him safe. Here it was that the Indian nature asserted itself. The Indian manager heaped almost every vile epithet known upon the umpire and refused to finish the game; Moredock gave the Indians 10 minutes to take their places. Instead of doing so they left the field, and the game was given to Waynesburg by a score of 9 to 0. At the time of the trouble the score stood 2 to 2. Much money was bet on the game, and tonight Waynesburg is all excitement. There is a difference of opinion as to Ingham's out, but as Moredock is noted for his impartiality the majority of the people are willing to abide by his decision. Dent pitched a star game, striking out nine men, allowing but three hits in the six innings played. Score:

Waynesburg	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	4	4

SELBACH AS A BOWLER.

The Ball Player Will Be Member of an All-American Trio.

DAYTON, O., June 9.—Al Selbach, the Baltimore American league club's star fielder, was today selected as a member of the all-American bowling trio, which is going to tour the western country to the Pacific coast next fall, under the management of Samuel Karpf, secretary of the American Bowling congress.

The other members of the trio are Phil Wolf, who holds the individual record for traveling teams, averaging 189 pins in 90 games, while the Greater New York Bowlers were out, and John J. Voorhels, champion bowler of Greater New York. The fourth member will be selected from the individual tournament now in progress and which ends June 16. So far there have been 72 applications for dates from alleys all over the west.

HOUSE PASSES ANTI-ANARCHY BILL EASILY

Only 38 Votes Are Recorded Against Substitute for Senate Measure.

THE BODY GUARD OMITTED

Proposed Law Stringent Against All Attempts at Assassination of President or Anyone in Line of Succession or of Foreign Rulers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 9.—The house today passed the bill to protect the president, vice president, members of the cabinet and foreign ministers and ambassadors, and to suppress the teaching of anarchy, by a vote of 175 to 38. A motion to recommit the measure with instructions to strike out certain sections was defeated, 71 to 123.

The 38 negative votes were: Adamson, Bartlett, Brantley, Brundidge, Burleson, Candler, Cooper (Tex.), Creamer, Dearmond, Dinsmore, Finley, Fox, Glenn, Henry (Miss.), Hooker, Howard, Johnson, Jones (Va.), Claude Kitchin, W. W. Kitchin, Kleberg, Lanham, Lester, Lewis (Ga.), Little, Loud, McCulloch, McLain, Maddox, Neville, Patterson (Tenn.), Randell, Reid, Scarborough, Shackleford, Slight, Stephens (Tex.), and Underwood.

The bill as passed is a substitute for the senate measure, which contained no anti-anarchist provisions, but which did contain a provision omitted from the substitute for a bodyguard for the president.

The Principal Crime.

The substitute provides that any person who shall unlawfully, purposely and knowingly kill the president or vice president, or any officer entitled by law to succeed to the presidency; any foreign ambassador or minister accredited to this country, while engaged in the performance of his official duties or because of his official character or because of any of his acts or omissions, shall suffer death. Any person who attempts to commit any of these offenses shall be imprisoned not less than 10 years.

Any person while engaged in an unlawful attempt to inflict grievous bodily harm upon the president or any person entitled to succeed him, if he inflicts injuries which cause death, shall be imprisoned for life; if such injuries do not cause death such offender shall be imprisoned not less than five years. Any person who aids, abets or conspires with another to commit any of these offenses shall be deemed a principal.

Any person who knowingly harbors, conceals or aids, with intent that he may avoid arrest or punishment, any person who has committed one of these offenses, shall be imprisoned from one to 25 years.

Advocacy of Murder a Crime.

Any person who advocates the unlawful killing of an officer of the government or of the government of any civilized nation, because of his official character, or who openly justifies such killing with intent to secure the commission of any of these offenses, shall be fined from $500 to $5,000 and imprisoned from one to 20 years.

Any person who conspires or advises any person to assault or kill, within or without the United States, the chief magistrate of a foreign country because of his official character, shall be punished as follows: If the attempt is made and death results, such offender shall suffer death; if such attempt does not result in death, the punishment shall be a fine of from $500 to $5,000 and imprisonment from five to 25 years; if such attempt is not made, the punishment shall be a similar fine and imprisonment from one to five years.

No person who is opposed to all organized government, or is a member of any organization entertaining or teaching such opposition, shall be admitted into the United States; and any person who aids such person to enter shall be fined from $500 to $5,000 and imprisoned from one to five years.

No Citizenship for Anarchists.

Naturalization of anarchists is prohibited. The courts are empowered to investigate, and, before issuing final papers, to require the affidavit of the applicant affirming the truth of every material fact necessary for naturalization.

The last section of the bill provides that in all prosecutions under the first seven sections of the act, it should be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that the president or other officer was engaged in his official duties at the time of the offense.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the bill to transfer certain forest reserves from the interior to the agricultural department, and to authorize the creation in such reserves of game and fish preserves. President Roosevelt in his annual message recommended such a measure. The minority of the public lands committee offered as a substitute for the bill a measure which eliminated that portion of the bill which transfers the reserves to the agricultural department.

YOUNGER MEN PROMOTED.

The President Calls a Halt on Practice of Advancing Aged Veterans in the Army.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—This statement was made at the war department as to the policy governing the army promotions:

"The president, within the past few months, has promoted a number of colonels, veterans of the civil war still remaining on the active list of the army, to be brigadier generals on the retired list. The nominations just sent to the senate indicate that a halt will be called in this practice for the present. The officers last nominated for promotion to the grade of brigadier general are all officers possessing mental and bodily vigor and able to carry on the active work of the army for some years to come. This action, however, does not indicate that no further promotions of veterans of the civil war will be made in the future. A number of vacancies will occur during the coming year, which will afford further opportunity for rewarding those remaining on the active list. There will be many vacancies within the next two years."

DISTRICT LEADERS THINK THEY WILL WIN

A Convention of Miners Called to Meet in Leechburg on Wednesday Morning.

The Pittsburgh district miners' leaders believe that their chances are excellent for winning the strike in the Allegheny valley fields, which has been on since the middle of April. For the purpose of better organizing the strike a convention has been called to open in Leechburg on Wednesday morning. The call was sent out yesterday by President Patrick Dolan, Vice President Uriah Bellingham and Secretary-Treasurer William Dodds.

President Dolan said yesterday that the object of the convention is to get detailed reports from each pit concerned in the conflict. "We have not enough organizers at the different points at all times to keep the strike thoroughly systematized in its working," said the Pittsburgh leader. "Of the 2,500 miners in the Allegheny and Kiskiminetas valleys, 1,500 remain on strike and nearly all of the rest are working on the agreement which we seek to enforce."

William Little, member of the national executive board of the miners, was at headquarters yesterday after work in the Blairsville strike section. He said: "The operators are offering the men all manner of inducements to get them back to work. They offer better than the wage we demand, although they said on the eve of the strike that they could not afford to pay our scale. The miners know what that means. If the men go back they will get the higher wage so long as the companies choose to pay it. I do not believe that there are more than 30 men at work about Blairsville, contrary to all newspaper reports from there, and at Leechburg and other points along the Allegheny valley there are few men working where the scale has not been signed."

ASK A WAGE ADVANCE.

Small Strike of Employes of the Crucible Steel Company.

An unorganized strike of the melting department men at the Singer, La Belle and Aliquippa plants of the Crucible Steel Company of America started yesterday morning. The men demand advances in wages of about 15 per cent. All others of the Pittsburgh plants are in full operation, although similar trouble is threatened at the Black Diamond works, formerly operated by the Park Steel Company.

Representatives of the company said last night that the demand was exorbitant in point of the high wage already paid and that the men leaving any of the plants were being discharged at once. New men are being employed to go into the mills.

GATES-MOORE PARTY FURIOUS AT VANDERBILT

BEATEN OUT BY PROXIES

The Coal Strike in the Virginias Has but Little Effect on Pig Iron Production—Computing Scale Company for Pittsburgh Chartered.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 9.—At the Chicago & Northwestern meeting last week the Gates-Moore faction was conspicuous for the comprehensive manner in which it was ignored by the Vanderbilts. Wall street had been hearing a great deal of talk about this faction's rising interest in the property, and once it was rumored that control of the railroad actually was involved in purchases of stock by the Gates-Moore people. The stock market's surprise, accordingly, was great when the new interests were flatly left out of the reckoning. The story came out today. It is told by one of the parties at interest, and proceeds:

The Gates party and the Moores pooled issues and acquired between them more Chicago & Northwestern stock than the Vanderbilts own outright. Then they gathered in proxies of a lot more, and finally went to the Vanderbilt people and asked what they proposed to do. H. McK. Twombley acted for the Vanderbilt interests. He promised the Gates-Moore faction that it should name one director this year and two next year, and it was further agreed that a stock dividend of 50 per cent should be distributed against the company's treasury assets. These terms suited the Gates-Moore people, and they turned over not only the proxies they had gathered, but gave to Mr. Twombley proxies on their own stock.

Then William K. Vanderbilt came home, and just before the annual meeting he calmly announced that Mr. Twombley had no authority to conduct such negotiations and that all agreements were off. It was too late for the Gates-Moore faction to do anything, and now there is much soreness. H. C. Frick was already chosen to represent the new interest in the Northwestern directorate.

New Strike Effects Iron but Little.

Authorities in the pig iron trade who were seen today ventured the assertion that furnaces will not be seriously embarrassed by the bituminous strike so long as the disturbance is confined to the Virginias. It is believed sufficient supplies can be obtained from other sources to supply the needs of the furnaces so long as miners now out refrain from work. A manufacturer who returned today from a personal survey of the coal situation estimates that not over 10,000 miners are out in the Virginias. He deems it unlikely that the strike will extend beyond its confines, because the miners in Pennsylvania and Ohio seem satisfied.

The temporary suspension of furnace operations in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys during the strike of the furnace men for an eight-hour shift has resulted in a loss of only 50,000 tons of this year's possible production. This is not a serious matter, at least not so serious as the results at one time were expected to be.

A prominent interest of the Republic Iron and Steel Company says this concern is doing the largest volume of business in its history. The strike of furnacemen in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys is said not to affect this company as severely as it did some other companies. The Republic Iron and Steel Company consumes the bulk of its own pig iron in the manufacture of bar iron and steel, steel billets, angles and axles. The annual capacity of the company's plants exceed 1,000,000 tons of finished product and approximately 600,000 tons of pig iron for the market.

A New Pittsburgh Enterprise.

The National Computing Scale Company, a Pittsburgh organization, was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital of $650,000. The incorporators are H. O. Coughlan, Louis B. Dailey, Paul Dissler, Augustus S. Meeker and K. K. McLaren. No information as to the identity of the interests back of the enterprise could be obtained today.

A Rush of Rail Orders.

An official of the United States Steel Corporation made the significant statement today that orders for steel rails from the big railroad systems are coming in more rapidly than ever before in the history of the iron and steel industry. Orders placed during the last two weeks were considerably larger in the aggregate than in the two weeks following the pool's announcement last fall that it had agreed to sell rails for 1903 at $28 a ton. It is now estimated that the orders for 1903 delivery exceed 600,000 tons, or between 20 and 25 per cent of next year's possible production. A representative of one of the largest rail-producing concerns in the country stated that the orders taken by his firm during the past five months exceeded the orders booked in the preceding six months.

"It would be an easy matter for us," said he, "to sell all our product at prices ranging from $4 to $6 a ton above the pool's price, but we know that any action of this sort would lead to a boom, and this same boom would be followed by a prolonged period of stagnation. It is our belief that the maintenance of a reasonable price for rails will mean permanent prosperity. The rail business is in better shape today than ever before in the history of the industry, for the simple reason that it is being directed by men who know their business."

The president of a large railroad company today said more rails would be laid next year than during the current year.

Corporation Meeting Postponed.

The adjourned meeting of the United States Steel Corporation, which was to have been held in Hoboken today, was again postponed until June 30 at the same place. The circular of the Steel Corporation, giving instructions as to deposit of the stock of the corporation in exchange for bonds, will be issued this week according to an official of the company.

Word comes from Worcester, Mass., that J. O. Emanuel Trotz of that city has been appointed metallurgist of the United States Steel Corporation. He will make his headquarters in Chicago.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 9.—Several weeks ago some excitement was reported in the Black Mesa country, Col., over the discovery of rich float and gold ore in places. An expert who has just returned from a tour of investigation writes that the formation is eruptive, and porphyry dykes and blowouts are numerous. Quite a number of locations have been made, but there is not one assessment hole in the district. Several of the mountains look as if they would justify prospecting. The surface is covered with wash, but no leads are open to enable anyone either to condemn or praise the country.

An important strike has been made on the 1,000-foot level of the granite at Cripple Creek. The vein, which is six feet wide, is a new one and yields values of $100 a ton.

Rich strikes are reported in the old Mollie Gibson, the famous silver producer of Aspen, Col. One of the 900-foot workings has exposed an ore body with values running from 10 ounces to thousands of ounces a ton.

Leadville is also outputting ore freely. It is now about 250 tons a day, coming from the Yak, Moyer and A. M. W. combination. It is reported that Philadelphia people are negotiating for the Moyer and Mollie, in the old New York and Minnie mines. The dump contains over 250,000 tons of material, which it is believed can be profitably handled by a milling process.

Money has been deposited in the First National bank of Lincoln, Neb., to begin active operations on the Independence, near Battle Lake, Wyo.

Advices from Phoenix, Ariz., note that the Polack Warrior plant, including the acid works, leacher and melting furnace, is in successful operation. Over 400 tons of Montgomery ore are being treated daily by the leacher and about 40 tons of matte, open to 60 fine, have been turned out from the furnace.

The Metal Market.

At New York today 30,000 pounds of electrolytic copper for June delivery was sold at 12.30c; the quoted range at the close being 12.25@12.30c, with casting at 12.00@12.25c, lake 12.50c, and 2,000 tons of standard, spot to September, at 11.70@11.80c. Thus the general market for copper was a shade better than last quoted. The London market closed 5s net higher, with spot at £74 10s and future 5s lower, with spot at £132 and futures at £128 10s. The local market had an average gain of about 25 points. First closed at 30.50@30.40c. The lead market ruled steady at New York, spot being quoted at 4.45c. London lead was unchanged at £11 7s 6d. Spelter continues dull, prices being nominal on the basis of 4.75c. London values are 5s 6d. Iron was without change, with trade dull. Warrants were nominal: No. 1 foundry, northern, $21 00@22 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $20 50@21 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $20 50@21 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $20 50@21 50. English markets were firmer. Glasgow closing at 54s 7d and Middlesborough at 49s 9d.

Slight Lift in Wall Street Prices

VAGUE RUMORS OF SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE

This Proves Slight Aid to Bulls in the New York Stock Market.

CROP REPORTS HELPFUL

Produce a Rise of One Point in Atchison and St. Paul—Wright's Visit Makes Gain of One Point in Reading Railroad.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 9.—The dullness of the trading in stocks was unrelieved today, but the inertia of prices was not quite so absolute. There was a scattering distribution of buying orders during the early trading, which lifted prices slightly. The demand subsequently died away, but the higher level of prices was pretty well maintained during the rest of the day. News of weather conditions favorable to all of the crops seemed to be the cause of the buying, which was most prominent in Atchison. That stock and St. Paul were moved up a point. Vague rumors were current all day of a coming settlement of the coal strike and operators in stocks professed satisfaction over the small effect of the soft coal miners' strike. The presence in the city of the United States commissioner of labor and the interest in the strike thus manifested on behalf of the president were variously regarded.

Reading Gains One.

The question of the statutory power of the president to actively intervene, however, seemed to afford most satisfaction to those interested in stocks. Reading's gain reached a point. The rise of 1½ in Hocking Valley was apparently due to the fact that the labor trouble has not affected its territory. Sugar had the benefit of a rise in the price of the refined product and of hopes of an agreement on Cuban reciprocity at Washington. The raising of the dividend rate on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha stock following that on Chicago & Northwestern kindled hopes of increases in other stocks. The market never showed the slightest animation, but such sluggish advances as took place were due to these causes. The money market showed a hardening tendency, rates for time loans advancing to 4½ per cent and money lenders expressed the belief that call loans rates would shortly advance. The money situation is obviously an important repressive influence on speculation. So also is the question of the ultimate effect of the ending of the Boer war.

Peace Will Help Europe.

There is also the question now whether the stimulation of the peace is to be diverted from the United States into a revival of English and continental industry. The substantial basis reached thereby a long process of liquidation favors such an assumption, but the immense undeveloped field still remaining in this country must be borne in mind, as was strikingly shown by our continued heavy borrowing from foreigners even while our own wealth has been increasing the fastest. The field for new development in the older countries is naturally much more restricted, but the question of possible withdrawal of foreign credits from the United States as a result of the ending of the Boer war is an open one and is attentively considered in American financial circles.

The bond market was dull and irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,215,000.

United States 2s registered declined ¼ and the 2s coupon, the 3s and the 5s ¼ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales for the day 176,300; par value $1,215,000.

Good crop reports excuse for one point rise in Atchison & St. Paul.

Money market is hardening and call money is expected to advance shortly.

Brokers still looking for good results to come from South African peace.

CLAIMS SHE WAS DUPED.

A Mt. Washington Woman Lost $1,100 to Alleged Oil Operators. One Goes to Jail.

Harry E. Walters had a hearing before Alderman McMasters yesterday on charges of conspiracy to defraud and false pretense, made by Miss E. L. Bell of No. 827 Grandview avenue. Included in the information is Emmitt Barr, a supposed oil producer, who had offices in the Empire building, but whose whereabouts are at present unknown.

According to the Bell woman Barr induced her to invest $1,100 in an oil well at St. Marys, W. Va., the lease of which was said to be held by Walters. They told her the well was producing 60 barrels a day and sold her an interest for $500. Later they borrowed $800 to purchase tools. Miss Bell claims that the oil well never existed and that no tools were purchased. Walters claimed he was simply a dupe of Barr and that all his actions were honest. He was held for court, however, and in default of bail was committed to jail.

Cattle.

Cattle—Receipts at the East Liberty stock yards today were 125 carloads, 10 more than the heavy arrivals of last Monday. The market remained steady on best grades, but dull on common grades and grass cattle. Quotations were nominally held the same as at the close of last week, but the situation was easier, with an inclination shown to shade prices.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,600 pounds, $6 75@7 00; prime, 1,250 to 1,400 pounds, $6 75@7 00; good, 1,000 to 1,200 pounds, $6 25@6 70; tidy, 1,000 to 1,150 pounds, $5 40@5 90; fair, 900 to 1,100 pounds, $4 60@5 00; good fresh cows, $40 00@ 53 00; common to fair, $25 00@35 00.

Hogs.

Sixty-one double decks of hogs arrived at the local stock yards and the market was slow and lower than at the close of last week. Last Monday's receipts were not so heavy as today and quotations now are lower than at that time, except for prime heavy hogs.

Prices: Prime heavy hogs, 250 pounds and upward, $7 15@7 20; heavy Yorkers, $7 00@7 10; light Yorkers, $6 80@6 90; pigs, $6 70@6 75; roughs, $5 00@6 20.

Sheep and Lambs.

Very liberal receipts of sheep and lambs marked today's operations, the market being slow, with prices 10@20 cents lower than at the close of the week, and much below figures of last Monday, when arrivals were lighter. Lambs also declined, but were steadier than sheep.

Best wethers, 85 to 100 pounds, $4 65@4 75, good, 85 to 90 pounds, $4 50@4 60; mixed, 75 to 85 pounds, $3 50@4 00; culls and common, $2 50@3 50; best spring lambs, $6 50@6 90; common to good, $5 00@6 00; veal calves, $7 00@7 20; heavy and thin, $4 00@5 00; spring lambs, $5 00@7 50.

The Local Stocks Were More Active, but Irregular in Tone

ANOTHER BOOM WAS BEGUN IN WINDOW GLASS

STEEL SHARES QUIETER

River Coal Common Quite Active and Firm—The Preferred Declined. Brewing Common Firm and Higher—Bank Shares Active but Firm.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was somewhat more active, but the tone was quite irregular. The close was dull and about steady. The feature of the day's business was in American Window Glass common, which grew suddenly strong and quite active near the windup, the price jumping quickly to 61½. At 61⅜ the demand was large, while the offerings at the top were smaller. All told, 1,318 shares were sold, the gain for the day being ⅝. The preferred did not sell and was unchanged at 92½ and 93 asked. There was no explanation for the advance unless it be ascribed to the report that the new blowing machine is to be put to the test at one of the company's Indiana plants this week and great results are expected. The steel shares were rather quiet, the sales being small and price changes unimportant. Crucible Steel common opened quite firm and ¼ higher at 22¼, but on sales of 825 shares lost the advance and closed at 22. The preferred sold a little over 200 shares and was dull and ⅛ lower at 87⅜. The fact that a few of the company's men had gone out on a strike for an advance in wages was not considered seriously, except as to its evidence of the general unrest pervading the atmosphere almost everywhere. United States Steel common was very dull, selling only 200 shares, the close being ⅛ lower at 37⅜. The preferred did not sell or offer, the only quotation being 89 bid. In the remainder of the list the coal and brewing stocks were the most active. River Coal common sold 1,000 shares at 12⅞, 1,000 going to an inside house. The preferred sold 800 and after opening at 42¼ closed at 42, a loss of ¼ for the day. Pittsburgh Coal issues were decidedly dull and without change in price. Pittsburgh Brewing common was strong and advanced to 27½, finally closing at 27¼ on sales of 505 shares. The gain for the day was ⅝. The preferred was much less active, but steady to firm and ¾ higher at 45. The advance in the common is accompanied by the same old reports of big earnings and of a possible increase in the dividend rate. In the banking group there was not much doing. Cosmopolitan National was $1 higher at $108, a new high record, and that price was bid for 100 shares more. Duquesne National rallied 7½ to 282½, while Lincoln National and Ohio Valley were unchanged. Real Estate Trust declined $1 to 285 and Safe Deposit and Trust lost a similar amount at 105. Westinghouse Electric seconds were ½ higher at 106½ for 150 shares. Bonds were quiet, but steady to firm.

The public generally are disposed to be bullish because prices do not recede on bad news. We do know this, however, that Wall street is equipped to do such a large amount of business that it cannot handle it on the present basis. Let it rest. The market is bound soon to move one way or the other.—Dick.

All Grains Lower in Chicago Pits

BULLS GIVE WAY BEFORE POWERS OF BRIGHT SKY

Fears of Wet Harvest Quickly Vanish and Bears Drag Down Prices.

VISIBLE SUPPLY LOWER

None of the Strong Factors Could Help the Market Against Influence of the Weather Map—Provisions Pushed to Higher Level.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 9.—Sunshine came to cheer the grain bears today. Fears they had expressed over the possibilities of a wet harvest were banished and the bulls ceased to give any advancing support when they heard that the heavy rains had stopped. As a result wheat slumped. Corn was carried down with the leading cereal, but was held up to some extent by the muscle of the big bull party. At the close July wheat was 1@1¼c lower, July corn ½@⅝c lower and July oats ⅝@¾c down. Provisions closed 5@7½c to 20c up.

Wheat was depressed by the fine weather more than by anything else. For several days the short interest has been much worried over the prospects of damage to winter wheat by a wet harvest. Today all was changed when the weather map showed clear weather prevailing generally. The southwestern markets were weak at the start. St. Louis being down 1c and selling here on the weather. The local crowd was very bearish at the start and July, opening ⅝c to ⅝@⅝c down at 71⅜c to 71⅝@71¼c, soon tumbled to 71⅛c. The cessation of a demand from shorts eliminated the otherwise bullish influences that might have been expected from a decrease of 2,640 bushels in the on-passage stuff and of 2,513,000 bushels in the visible supply. Even some talk of exporting new stuff and a fair show of strength at New York on the French demand at weakened prices had no effect.

Wheat Heavy With No Support.

Wheat was very heavy and seemed unable to help itself, and, as no support came to its aid, the close was weak, July 1@1¼c lower at 71⅛@71¼c. Trade was fairly active and selling heavy. Local receipts were 27 cars, 4 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 371 cars, making a total for the three points of 398 cars, against 376 last week, and 960 a year ago. Primary receipts were 518,000 bushels, compared to 789,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 503,000 bushels. World's shipments were 9,460,000 bushels, compared to 7,712,000 bushels last week and 10,827,000 a year ago. The seaboard reported 8 loads taken for export. Seven loads were sold here for direct shipment.

Corn opened off sharply on favorable weather for cultivation and freer country offerings. Southwestern markets showed marked weakness and commission houses generally had selling orders.

Support Comes for July.

There was, however, active buying of July by the big bull party that is supposed to be in control of that option, so that before noon that future had more than recovered its decline. Receipts were free at 413 cars and world's shipments showed 6,220,000 bushels, compared to 3,667,000 last week. There is little talk of cash business, but from day to day stuff is moving out and stocks have been decreased in spite of better receipts. The weakness, however, prevailed in spite of the fear of the "deal" in July options, and July through it recovered to 62¼c after selling as low as 62½c, closed weak, ½@⅝c down at 62½@62⅝c.

Oats broke with the other grains and ruled weak. The weather talk was the principal bearish argument, although recent liquidation for profits has had a depressing effect. The disparity between the cash price and that of July stuff helped in a small rally, but later trade was dull and July after selling from 38⅝c to 38¼c, closed weak, ⅝@⅞c down at 38¼c. Receipts were 121 cars.

Provisions did not follow the grain influence and were pushed up to higher prices. Hogs were higher, there was a fair demand by shorts, and little stuff was offered by the packers, who control all the holdings. July pork sold between $17 50 and $17 57½, and closed 7½c up at $17 50; July lard closed 5@7½c up at $10 02½, and July ribs 20c higher at $10 37½.

DIRTY STREETS COMPLAINED OF BY TAXPAYERS

Many Citizens Have Called at the Bureau of Health to Ask for Relief.

SIX MORE SMALLPOX CASES

Patients Were Sent to the Municipal Hospital Yesterday — Children Among the Victims—Prosecution of a Charleroi Doctor Threatened.

In spite of the assurances of Director McCandless of the department of public works that the small streets and alleys in Pittsburgh "were never so clean as they are at the present time," complaints are daily lodged with Supt. A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health protesting that statement. Yesterday over a dozen complaints were made to Supt. Pitcairn. Most of these came from residents in the Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth wards. Several were lodged by citizens of the Seventh ward. Some of these people said that their streets had not been cleaned in over two months.

One complaint from a resident of the Sixth ward said there had been several dead animals lying in Forbes street that had been there for 48 hours. Another complaint was made by a resident of the Eleventh ward. He said there is a house in an old foot path now used as an alley in the ward. The house is now a dairy and a cow shed. Sometimes there are as many as 14 head of cattle penned in there at a time.

This place has been named "Dismal alley" by the residents of that district. There are several small houses along this alley and the odor from the place during the warm months is almost unbearable. It is the disposition of the officers of the bureau of health to consider these complaints seriously. A report is made out by them and submitted to the director of public works. Usually this is the last seen or heard of the complaint.

From what could be learned yesterday the streets in most cases are not visited by the "white wings." Webster avenue is still in the same condition it was a week ago. Many complaints have been made by the residents along this thoroughfare, but no attention has been given their appeal.

The smallpox is daily increasing. Yesterday six cases were taken to the Municipal hospital. Three small children were removed to the hospital from Webster avenue. Don Reed, 15 months old; Francis, 2 years, and Leo, 4 years, were taken from No. 2148 Webster avenue. In this section the street is in a most filthy condition. Miss Reed showed signs of smallpox and was taken to the hospital with her children.

Andrew Steele, 28 years old, of Washington and Franklin streets, was taken to the Municipal hospital last night suffering with smallpox, as was Susan Beatty, colored, of No. 185 Thirty-fourth street. The latter has been ill in her home for a week with no medical attention.

Another case developed in the Municipal hospital yesterday. Joseph Lesniak, 9 months old, who was removed there over a week ago with his sister and mother, became ill with the disease.

Director Leslie of the department of public safety said yesterday he would make information against Dr. N. E. Patton of Charleroi for violating an act of assembly by sending a smallpox victim here and throwing him on the city's care. Many of the cases in the hospital have come from surrounding districts. In some instances they have been sent from Altoona, Monongahela City and Clarion. Director Leslie said yesterday the city had enough cases of its own without being incumbered with cases of other cities and counties.

Director Leslie intended to make information against a number of physicians for violating the act and he claims that Dr. Patton was guilty of gross carelessness in sending a smallpox victim through the city streets during hours when the streets were crowded with pedestrians.

John Forney, Jr., 18 years of age, of No. 1234 Tube Works alley, McKeesport, was discovered to have smallpox yesterday. Health officers were denied admittance to a guard was placed around the house.

A number of the residents of Etna were before the council at the meeting yesterday to complain of the filth in all parts of the borough and urge that some action be taken. The matter was referred to the board of health for immediate action.

DR. LEVY'S LECTURE.

"Clerical Wit and Wisdom" was the subject of an excellent discourse delivered last night in the Alvin theater by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy for the benefit of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny sterilized, pasteurized and modified milk, ice and coal society. An unusually large audience testified to the interest in this work and Dr. Levy has rarely been heard to better advantage, his thrilling description of the ministers' duties at all times provoking a hearty applause.

The society issued a special program for the event, with a list of patronesses that included the most prominent Pittsburgh women. With very limited resources the society has dispensed 25,650 feedings of modified milk, and 1,380½ quarts of whole milk during the past year, and for this purpose received $1,688 85. The society appeals to the public for more substantial encouragement. Just now it has an "empty treasury" and needs not less than $5,000 to meet the demands of the coming hot weather. The milk, ice and coal is supplied to the needy of every race or clime, with neither regard for creed nor color.

TEN MEN EXPELLED.

FIVE YOUNG MEN FOR MISSION WORK

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN WORKERS TO DEPART FOR EGYPT.

Two of Them Have Made Crack Records on Athletic Fields and Promise to Be Just as Vigorous in Promoting Gospel of Strength and Righteousness.

United Presbyterians hereabouts who are interested in foreign missionary work are much elated over the bright prospects that field offers in the near future and this interest is accentuated by the knowledge that men and women from the Pittsburgh district are to have much to do in garnering the harvest that is said to be awaiting their coming. Besides the quota of women workers whose departure The Gazette has already noted, the Pittsburgh district is to contribute to the foreign field, there are five young men belonging to well-known families in the church who will leave for Egypt next month.

Three of these are members of the senior class in Westminster college and will graduate this month. They are: James A. Grier of Bellevue, John G. Deevers and John Armor Veazey of New Wilmington, Pa. The other two are the Rev. J. Howard Boyd, son of the Rev. Dr. J. C. Boyd, and the Rev. D. Glenn Moore of Villisca, Ia.

Mr. Boyd is a recent graduate of the Allegheny seminary and the foreign board recently appointed him as missionary to Egypt. His sister, Miss Myra L. Boyd, will also offer herself for work in foreign fields.

Mr. Glenn Moore will teach in the boys' school in Egypt. He, too, comes from the Allegheny seminary, and for the past nine months has been a stated supply for congregations in Iowa.

Mr. Grier is but 19 years old. He has taught in the Bellevue schools for some time, and is regarded as a young man of exceptional abilities.

Mr. Veazey is the son of Dr. J. H. Veazey, general agent of Westminster college. Deevers and Veazey are the crack field men of Westminster college and have captured several prizes in athletic events, particularly at Buffalo last year when 17 eastern colleges and universities were in the contest. Mr. Veazey was captain of the track team which won the silver cup on field day. Mr. Moore is now at his home in Washington, Pa.

"JACK" CLIFFORD, THE STRIKE LEADER, DEAD

He Was Prominent in the Homestead Struggle Ten Years Ago.

The funeral of John M. Clifford, who was one of the most conspicuous leaders of the strikers in the former Homestead steel strike 10 years ago, took place at 9 o'clock yesterday morning from St. Peter's pro-cathedral, Allegheny, and the body was interred in St. Mary's cemetery. Clifford, who was widely known as "Jack," was one of the most unique characters in this section.

"Jack" Clifford was born in Middlesboro, England, in 1850. He was one of five children, and at an early age learned the trade of puddler. He came to Pittsburgh over 28 years ago, and first worked in Wilson, Walker & Co.'s Twenty-ninth street mill, which is now the property of the Carnegie Steel Company. He worked here but a short time until he went to Haley, Idaho, and managed a hotel for a relative for a year. Then, in company with his brother, Patrick, he went to San Francisco, and first came into fame on account of strikes.

Clifford had joined the Amalgamated association in England, and when he came to this country took up the work enthusiastically, and helped to organize many branches. When Clifford reached San Francisco there was a strike on among the iron puddlers. He secured a position as bar tender in Taylor's hotel, and when off duty he spent his time with the strikers.

He was instrumental in getting many non-union men to leave San Francisco and workmen who had gone to work and were not members of the union he persuaded to go out with the strikers. The union men won their strike and "Jack" Clifford was given a great deal of credit for it. He came back to Pittsburgh in 1888, but went to Chicago a year later and worked in a steel foundry. In 1890 Clifford returned to Pittsburgh and soon went to work as a helper in the large plate mill at Homestead, which position he held until the strike was declared.

He was a member of the Amalgamated "advisory board," and was known throughout Homestead as "the man with the red shirt." After the strike Clifford was arrested and remained in jail six months and three weeks. He was charged with murder and was tried and acquitted on the charge.

After his release from jail Clifford returned to Homestead and tended bar in a saloon in that place for several years. Then he came to Pittsburgh. He tried various sorts of employment, but soon drifted back into his old business as a bartender, and worked in some of the best-known saloons in Pittsburgh.

About a year ago "Jack" Clifford contracted a severe cold, from which he never recovered. His death occurred last Friday. Besides his wife, his father, Richard Clifford of Youngstown, O., and three brothers, Patrick, Thomas and Nicholas, survive him.

PITTSBURGHERS IN NEW SCHEME TO MAKE BRICK

OLD KILNS ELIMINATED

Continental Brick Co. With $250,000 Capital Organized to Operate Under New System Near Sharpsburg Bridge on Allegheny River.

A Pittsburgh syndicate has organized a company which promises to revolutionize the present system of brick making. The Continental Brick Company, organized under the laws of New Jersey, with a paid-up capital of $250,000, within 90 days will be producing bricks at the rate of 40,000 a day, at works on Allegheny river frontage, on the Pittsburgh side of the river, west of the Sharpsburg bridge.

The charter was delivered yesterday through the Pittsburgh office of the New Jersey Incorporation, Guarantee and Trust Company and the company organized with the following officers and directors: Samuel O'Neil, formerly of the Fayette Coal Company, president; E. O. Roenigk, secretary and treasurer; John S. O'Neil, Frank Metcalf, Robert H. Wilson and C. P. Hippisley.

The new process eliminates the burning and drying kilns. There is substituted a massive hardening cylinder of steel, into which a car loaded with moulded brick is sent, the cylinder sealed, and with the use of steam and chemicals the brick are brought out ready for shipment in 24 hours.

Known as the System Huennekes.

It is the "System Huennekes," named after its inventor in Germany, and through the new Pittsburgh company is being introduced here for the first time. The river will be dredged for sand which will be used in the production of building bricks in any color and shape. Fire bricks will also be manufactured, the material used being crushed Ganister rock brought from the great producing region near Uniontown. Fire bricks from this rock, made under the new system, have stood a test at the Pittsburgh testing laboratory of 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Continental company has opened headquarters at No. 408 Wood street. Most of the orders for equipment have been placed and some of this equipment is now being delivered at the building site. Tests made of the new bricks have shown a water absorption of only 10 per cent. Under this process the finest building bricks are turned out in a day, the pressing being done in the morning and the curing in the evening. Under the old system weeks are sometimes consumed in working out the bricks.

Something About the Mechanism.

An extra low percentage of lime is employed. The lime is ground in a pulverizing mill. From this mill it falls into a mechanism used to measure out the required portion. This apparatus is adjustable and may be set according to the quality of sand and lime used, and will measure off from 94 to 98 parts of sand and from four to six parts of lime. From here the material is carried to the mixing apparatus. Then it is carried by electrical conveying apparatus to pressing machines of special construction.

The compressed bricks are stacked on iron tray cars which are backed into steel cylinders having a capacity of 20,000 bricks. Then the cylinder is hermetically sealed and subjected to the action of steam under high pressure, the steam being fed by the necessary chemicals. This develops the hardness and nearly waterproof properties of the brick.

One of the Great Days of the Year—Flag Day.

Next Saturday.

Primarily a day for educating the youthful mind to look upon the Flag of the Free as representing the most powerful government in the world. A pretty custom originated in recent years.

It is not compulsory to fly the Stars and Stripes from your home, but you will feel much better if the Flag is there. Merely mentioned in time lest you forget.

There is a double incentive in buying a Flag now. It's just possible there may be a scarcity around July Fourth, for there will be a wonderful demand on account of the visit of the President. So buying now means security for the Fourth.

We have a fine big stock of both Silk and Bunting Flags, and there is nothing fancy about the prices. As moderate as can be.

Simply a Reminder of Window Curtains.

Summer Hosiery for Women and Children.

All our Hosiery is bought on the cannot-be-equaled-for-the-price idea, and the idea is adhered to so strictly that like prices for like grades are out of the question.

Riker's Violet Cerate.

You have probably received a box of this skin food, and also an interesting little brochure, entitled: "A Beauty Builder." We've been distributing both through the two cities. The book gives minute instructions for massaging the face, neck and arms, and lots of other information.

If we missed you ask at the Perfumery Department for book and sample.

Never found any toilet delicacy so soothing as RIKER'S VIOLET CERATE. Sunburn, redness, freckles and tan immediately disappear after a few applications. 50c a jar.

We are sole agents for Riker's preparations.

PENN AND FIFTH.

R·I·PANS

I am forty-seven years of age, and for twenty years I had been afflicted with headache and stomach troubles. I would get those blind spells with spots before my eyes, and after that passed away then would come one of those terrible headaches. After eating I would feel so miserable, but since using Ripans Tabules that is a dream of the past. I take a Tabule when I feel the headache coming, and in twenty minutes the pain in my head is nearly gone. I take a Ripans Tabule whenever I feel a slight indication of headache or stomach trouble. Am almost positive that if I used them every day I could overcome all that illness.
